Three well-known Lowell boys, Timothy M. Tully, George J. M. Grant and Walter C. Shea, will receive the degree of bachelor of arts at the annual commencement exercises of Boston College at University Heights, West Newton, on Wednesday, June 20. Each of the above passed the required examinations last week, following the successful completion of the four year course incident to the awarding of the coveted degree.

Timothy M. Tully is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy M. Tully of 41 Ellis court. He was a Carney medal scholar of the 1916 class of the Lowell high school and the following year he graduated from Boston College high school. During the war he received a 2d Lieutenant's commission in the infantry and is at present attached to the infantry officers' reserve corps. He has been prominent in college activities during his four year course and in his senior year held the presidency of the Boston College club of Lowell. He is undecided as to what profession he will follow.

Walter C. Shea is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Shea of 180 Mammoth rd. He entered Boston college in the fall of 1918 after graduating from Boston College high school and was a prominent member of the B. C. band. He is an accomplished musician, and was vice president of the B. C. club of Lowell in 1922-23. His plans after graduation are undecided.

George J. M. Grant is a nephew of Dr. Emma Y. Slaughter of the local school board and makes his home at 545 School street. During his college career, he has made an enviable record as a student and intends to enter medical school after graduation.

Myles J. Finnegan is a graduate of the Billerica high school, class of 1919. At Boston college he was conspicuous as a member of the debating, dramatic and musical clubs. He took a leading part in a recent senior class production.

Dainty Girl, Scarcely Out of Her Teens, Sought as Bandit and Murderess by Chicago Police

"Only a Drunk" In The Prison Cell

While a hundred thousand Lowellites were endeavoring to cope with the tropical atmosphere which pervaded the city last evening, a lone inmate sat in his secluded cell in the Market street police station with nary a breeze to cool his fevered brow, nor a solacing hand to comfort him in his affliction. A brass-buttoned keeper, representing the firm arm of the law, remained on guard in more spacious quarters outside, and informed the curious that the solitary tenant behind the iron bars was "only a drunk."

"Only a drunk," but not drunk only, for the poor unfortunate was sweltering in the torrid and almost suffocating environment of a darkened, gloomy cell, the result of a previous seizure with a destructible alcoholic beverage. It was a hot night to be sure, torrid in highlands and lowlands, but it brought near-prostration to the man who was "only a drunk."

Girl Slayer and Male Companion Jumped Into Victim's Car and Sped Away

One of Most Extended Police Hunts on Record in Chicago Now Underway

CHICAGO, June 5.—A dainty girl who might easily pass for a popular debutante, scarcely out of her teens, is being sought today as a bandit and murderess in one of the most extended police hunts on record in Chicago.

She shot and killed Richard C. Tesmer, prominent and wealthy insurance man, after directing a male accomplice in a holdup of Tesmer and his wife outside the garage at their home last night.

After firing the shot, the girl snatched commands to her companion, leaped into Tesmer's automobile and drove away as calmly as if she were

MUSICALE AT THE NOTRE DAME ACADEMY

The Academy of Notre Dame added another laurel to its wreath this afternoon when the musicale, one of the elaborate programs given each year by the pupils of the academy, was held. The stakes were artistically decorated with cut flowers and palms. The hall, dotted here and there with greenery and palms, was crowded to its doors with relatives and friends of the pupils.

Rev. John J. McGarry, D.D., Rev. James Supple, D.D., and His Honor Mayor John J. Donovan, occupied reserved seats. The clergy of the local parishes and of surrounding cities also attended.

The orchestra, composed of the pupils of the academy, capably rendered choice selections.

Miss Estelle Roney, a well known harpist, delighted the audience with a tuneful Irish melody.

During the course of the program, honors were awarded to a number of young ladies for their proficiency in music.

One of the most pleasing numbers, perhaps, was the greeting by the little girls, representing Sinnabum. The little ones addressed the pastor, in

TWO INQUESTS HELD THIS MORNING

Two inquests were held in the juvenile court room of the police station this morning with Judge John J. Pickman presiding. One of the hearings was concerned with the death of Dr. John W. Gray, who died in St. John's hospital about two weeks ago as the result of wounds sustained in a cutting affray in Andrews street. The other concerned the death of 3-year-old Edward Lynch, who was killed in Cochran street three weeks ago when he was struck and knocked down by an automobile driven by

STREETS MAY BE FLUSHED TONIGHT

Unless showers come this afternoon to relieve the humidity which comprised the major part of today's heat, streets in congested districts will be flushed tonight by fire department hose companies. Chief Edward F. Saunders said this noon he has made arrangements to have this done in case no rain falls.

Although the humidity today was more pronounced the temperature did not rise to yesterday's high mark and a southwest breeze blew steadily and brought a measure of relief.

Last night was as uncomfortable as any the city will experience all summer, and restful sleep was out of the question in thousands of homes. There was hardly a breath of air and it was not until early morning that the heat of the day gave way to a more cooling condition.

MANY APPLICATIONS FOR AUDITORIUM

The public trustees of the Memorial Auditorium will hold an adjourned meeting in the office of the building Thursday evening to act upon all applications at hand for the use of either the main auditorium or Liberty hall next fall and winter.

Building Manager Colin C. MacKenzie said today there are more than 50 applications already on file and suggests that local organizations which desire reservations submit applications at once to avoid conflicts in dates.

NEW LOWELL ATLAS

Secretary-Manager George F. Wells of the chamber of commerce received word today from the Richards Map company that the new atlas of Lowell will be ready for distribution on November 1. This atlas was made at the request of the chamber as the last official atlas of the city was made in 1908 and is now out of date, and they are taking orders for copies of the book now.

PASSES CENTURY MARK

Mrs. Lucy Cook Observes 101st Birthday at the Old Ladies' Home

Mrs. Lucy Cook, for 30 years an inmate of the Old Ladies Home, is today observing her one hundred and first birthday anniversary. Confined to her comfortable room in the Fletcher street institution because of an old-age infirmity, the genial inmate is today receiving congratulations from the many friends she has made in and out of the house she has called home since her seventieth birthday.

Mrs. Cook was born in Canada, June 6, 1822, and came to Lowell when quite young. Her husband, who was born in England, died several years ago and Mrs. Cook was obliged to go to work and earn her own living. Thirty years ago, she became ill and sought refuge in the Old Ladies Home, where she became an expert sewer and numerous friendships resulted. Despite her advanced years, her sight and hearing are remarkable and she is able to converse freely with her many visitors.

LOWELL MEN APPOINTED BY COX AS MEDICAL AND ASSISTANT MEDICAL EXAMINERS

Rep. Victor F. Jewett was notified today by the governor's secretary that the governor sent to his council today for confirmation the names of Dr. Marshall L. Alling and Dr. Mason D. Bryant for medical and associate medical examiners for the 5th Middlesex district, comprising Lowell, Dracut, Tewksbury, Billerica, Chelmsford and Tyngsboro.

Under the rules of procedure of the governor's council, their nominations will be held on the table for one week, when they must be approved or rejected by a majority vote.

The appointment of Dr. Alling promotes him to the position held by the late Dr. Thomas R. Smith and is only for Dr. Smith's unexpired term, which runs until 1924. This means that next year both Dr. Alling and Dr. Bryant must come up for reappointment for a term of six years.

The announcement of Governor Cox's nomination of the two Lowell physicians substantiates the news story exclusively carried by this paper two days ago.

SOME IMPROVEMENT IN DUTTON STREET

Traffic conditions for motor vehicles and pedestrians through Dutton street, particularly in the area where the new plant of the Saco-Lowell Shops is in the process of construction, have been considerably improved by the completion of a temporary sidewalk on the north side of the street and the placing of "No Parking" signs on the south side between Broadway and a point above the Saco-Lowell entrance.

Prior to these relief measures and especially since the work of construction began, traffic conditions in the street have been unusually bad. The temporary sidewalk was built on suggestion of the board of public service, while the parking signs were put up by the Saco-Lowell company, working in conjunction with the police department.

13 MEN ARRESTED AND MILLIONS OF BOGUS REVENUE STAMPS AND LIQUOR LABELS SEIZED

NEW YORK, June 6.—Thirteen men were arrested and millions of bogus government revenue stamps, whiskey and champagne labels, with the plates from which they were printed, were seized by secret service agents in two raids here last night.

NO COURT PROCEEDINGS IN CONNECTION WITH SEIZURE OF LAND FOR CEMETERY PURPOSES

The board of cemetery commissioners has obtained full title to 17 acres of land adjacent to the Edison cemetery and bounded by Boston road and Swan street, owned by the late Erasmus Dayfield, without recourse to the courts and at a meeting of the commission at 4.30 p. m. today the acquisition process will be completed.

The commission attempted to purchase the land for a number of years, without success and finally adopted the seizure process and actually came into possession of it in this manner. It was to be contested in the courts, however, and the commission then at-

It's a Different D. W. Griffith
But Same Mae Marsh in New Film

IVOR NOVELLO AND MAE MARSH, FEATURED IN THE GRIF-FITH PRODUCTION, "THE WHITE ROSE."

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, June 6.—The two im-portant things to report about "The White Rose," shown here for the first time, are that Mae Marsh is still the same fine actress that she was when she left the screen several years ago and that D. W. Griffith is a different Griffith.
Griffith has mellowed. Griffith once thrilled the multitude with charging men and horses, with beautiful heroines in deep agony, with the clash of arms and the thumping of skulls. Combat, in its most spectacular phases, was the keynote of his motion pictures.
The new Griffith is a poet. Always an idealist, he is now an idealist, a pastoral poet using the quiet splendor of bayou, floating flowers and moss-

Liver trouble that becomes chronic throws the entire system out of gear. Maps the pep and energy and vitality so necessary to good living, especially when a man is compelled to work day and night. Mr. Daniel Sullivan of 23 North st., Lowell, was not only troubled with a bad liver, but his kidneys kept him in constant pain.

"Chronic liver trouble and diseased kidneys made life a pretty sad affair for me. It was continuous suffering that made it impossible for me to give my heart to my work," says Mr. Sullivan.
"After years of trying medicine that did me no good I started taking DRECO. Immediately I began to feel much better. And after taking two bottles of this wonderful remedy I felt like a new man. All the years of suffering from liver and kidney troubles, vanished. I am now a healthy man."

"If you are a sufferer of liver or kidney trouble I advise you to start taking DRECO. Your improvement will be noticeable after the first dose."

DRECO restores a lazy liver, gives strength to weak kidneys, aids the stomach in digesting the food and relieves constipation. The action of DRECO is pleasant and remarkably quick.

Circumstances are set for a poignant progression of fateful happenings.
A girl leaves an orphan asylum and obtains work in a Louisiana winter resort hotel. Cast into the world a budding woman, she soon acquires the hand of a dancer and contact with crude men and girls. But she is still the same sweet girl within.
The youth, about to enter the ministry, sets out to see something of the world. His path crosses that of the girl. They are both of them known to each other. Through neither of them knows it, this is to be farewell. It isn't their farewell. Intentionally or unintentionally the specter is led then and there to believe that only tragedy can come of this joyous after being greeted about with her baby and drenched in a rain storm that would bring death to almost anyone. Fate—and D. W.—take her to a negro shack on the plantation of the young girl the minister has just proposed to. And there, the girl ends, the heroine and the minister living happily ever after and the other girl marrying a young fellow who had loved her all along.

At the start the picture propels itself as having been based on fact. If that is so, life itself violated all good rules of dramatics. It is my own idea that D. W.'s interpretation of life violated the rules. The spectator should not have been tricked into expecting a flash of anachronism and ashes to be given a milk and honey ending.

Little more could be said for Mae Marsh than that she is as effective as she ever was. Any number of our feminine stars would be paid a pretty compliment were they called as talented as Mae Marsh.

"The White Rose" marks the debut of Ivor Novello, English actor and song writer, in American films. He is unusually handsome and a capable actor, although he still has much to learn about camera technique. He will be immensely popular with the ladies.

Carol Dempster is fragile, beautiful and innocent and that is all that is required of her in this picture. Griffith took advantage of every opportunity to show Novello and Miss Dempster in close-ups without any object in the background to detract from the projected portrait.

In some sequences Griffith's story has a delicacy, a sheer beauty, both in narration and in pictorial effect that is superior to anything that the screen has yet seen.

This film tells story of a man's love, his logic and with the box office in mind. It gets away from life.

From the outset, with subtle and action, Griffith prepares the spectator for a tragedy. Characters are and bayou, floating flowers and moss-

NEIGHBORHOOD SOCIAL AT SHEED PARK

Five hundred residents of the Oak-lands joined in a most enjoyable neighborhood social at Sheed park last evening, which was a successful one. The event was unique from many ways the event was unique from a community viewpoint and it brought young and old together for an evening of much pleasure, fun and sociability.

At first planned on a much smaller scale, to embrace children only, the idea appealed to so many of the residents in the Sheed park section that elaborate plans were worked out by a committee of men and women and the results were satisfactory in every particular.

The affair began shortly after 7.30 o'clock when the participants gathered around a refreshment booth and were served frankfurts, lemonade and lollypops. It was a sufficient supper for such a late night and was thoroughly enjoyed.

On the Sheed park area games were played for several hours and the younger people enjoyed dancing, with music furnished by a victrola set up by the park commission. There were balloon races for the children and favors were distributed to all who attended.

Among those who worked in preparation for the affair were David Birchall, Mrs. John P. Mahoney, Mrs. Robert Douglas, Mrs. Gustave Holmes, Mrs. Everett H. Prescott, Mrs. John Rogers, Mrs. James Finn, Miss Florence Barrett, Miss Elizabeth Bradley, Mrs. R. L. Gosselin, Charles L. Boutwell, Theodore Burns, Patrick Barry, Robert Douglas and Miss White.

BRICKLAYERS BETTER OFF THAN MANY MERCHANTS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 6.—Several hundred retail merchants would be better off if they were bricklayers and plasterers, Roger W. Babson told the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the world today.

"There are 1,500,000 retailers in the United States today," he said, "and 100,000 of them are doing a profitable business, and 100,000 more are doing a fair business. But a million of these retailers are barely struggling along. A large proportion operate at a loss. Those who are not operating at a loss are merely getting day wages and small day wages at best."

"To the bricklayer of the country the brick is the unit of the country's industries as the common soldier bears to an army. The prosperity of the country is ultimately dependent upon the efficiency and prosperity of the retailers."

"Some say that there are a million too many retailers and the solution is to eliminate several hundred thousand of them. The solution lies, not in eliminating a million retailers, but in showing them how they can work efficiently and how they can be of the greatest possible service. This is the great task facing American business men today."

SPECTACULAR DEMONSTRATION

2,000,000 Volts Made to Do Bidding of Man Operating Small Switch

Mighty Flashes Play in Laboratory "Village" About Heads of Witnesses

PITTSFIELD, June 5.—The greatest amount of energy ever concentrated by human ingenuity—more than 10,000,000 horsepower—was created, toyed with and finally docilely placed back in its cradle yesterday by a single man.

The significance of the spectacular demonstration was that twice as much electrical voltage as ever before was produced and safely handled, also made to do the bidding of a man operating a small switch with all the unfathomable wizardry of a magician bringing rabbits out of a hat. For a small part of a millionth of a second the power was equal to all the electrical power in America.

The exact voltage was 2,000,000, which, as estimated by Charles P. Steinmetz, an electrical expert, is one twenty-fifth the power of a bolt of lightning.

The demonstration was made in the Pittsfield laboratory, renowned among electrical men as the center of experiment in transmission lines. It was in charge of P. W. Peek, Jr., who directs the high voltage research, and Giuseppe Pacelli, chief electrical engineer of the Pittsfield works.

Mr. Pacelli said the layman might get some conception of the power handled when it was realized that the greatest single amount of electrical voltage now transmitted for public use is 220,000—that in California, Mr. Peek pointed out, the objective was to keep research ahead of need—so that when it is desirable to carry 2,000,000 volts in a wire, it can be done.

"We may be able to create that which it took ages to create through evolution," Pacelli said. "Could? Possibly. Nobody knows. I don't know. It would be nice to control my own little plant for making them, eh? But it is a great speculative field, and much may come to it."

A model village was built, and the electricity, transformed into a bolt of lightning, was whipped back and forth and up and down, striking the lightning arrester of a little church steeple. The electrical expert's interpretation of the lightning bolts, which rolled and thundered while rain they produced fell in torrents.

The engineers were interested in the effect of their bolts upon pieces of walnut, which, touched by the great voltage, disappeared from sight and left no perceptible residue.

SHIP LIQUOR QUESTION

Officials Tell Diplomats Question Purely One of Domestic Jurisdiction

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Diplomats in Washington who have discussed the ship liquor question with state department officials have had it pointed out to them that the question is purely one of American domestic jurisdiction and therefore not subject to treatment through any joint international conference.

The American government does not propose to seek such a method of adjustment or to accept any proposals of that nature from an outside source. The question of rules and regulations under the supreme court's interpretation of the prohibition enforcement act is wholly a matter for congress, it is held, and so far as known that viewpoint has not been challenged in the correspondence with various governments.

GRADUATION EXERCISES IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

With the exception of the Bartlett training school, graduation exercises in the city's public schools, including the high school, will be held on June 25 and 27. The Bartlett graduation comes on the 23rd.

Hours of graduation vary considerably, this detail being left to the individual masters. At the Green and Pawtucket schools, where junior high schools are in operation, no grammar class will graduate, as there are no elementary classes in either school above the sixth grade.

The schedule of graduations, showing dates and times, follows:

High school, Wednesday, June 27, 8 p.m.
Bartlett school, Saturday, June 23, 2:30 p.m.
Butler school, Tuesday, June 26, 9:30 a.m.
Colburn school, Tuesday, June 26, 2 p.m.
Edson school, Tuesday, June 26, 9 a.m.
Green school, there will be no graduation.
Greenhalge school, Tuesday, June 26, 9 a.m.
Lincoln school, Tuesday, June 26, 7:45 p.m.

POWER INDUSTRY IN ITS INFANCY

A Few "Super Power" Systems Will Supply Electrical Energy to Entire Continent

Entering New Era of Development, Says Westinghouse Official

NEW YORK, June 6.—"In time a few 'super-power' systems, drawing upon all economical sources of power within the areas they cover, will supply electrical energy to the great part of the North American continent," General Guy E. Tripp, chairman of the board of directors, Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., predicted today.

The electric light and power industry is an infant compared with the railroad, shipping, telephone, telegraph and gas industries, he told delegates attending the National Electric Light Association and no one can predict its future, though, he added, it is plain it is entering a new era of development.

There is a tendency to connect groups of electric generating plants, he explained, to form composite systems for the more economical production of energy. Individual plants are disappearing into the spreading systems because they cannot compete with them and it is well that they are merging, he said.

General Tripp said these "super-power" systems would become vital to our national prosperity and must, of necessity, be monopolies, and being so, would be shoring marks for the advocates of government ownership. The efforts of these earnest theorists will be multiplied exceedingly and we shall but deceive ourselves, if we believe that their doctrine will be unheeded by the public and politicians.

General Tripp said legislatures should determine as soon as possible "the irreducible minimum of regulation" that will afford complete protection to the public and at the same time promote electric power development to the greatest possible extent.

He deplored the action of the government of Maine which has prohibited exportation of its water power, saying it represents one more obstacle to the completion of the general plan.

Gen. Tripp asserted that it would be impossible for municipalities or states to attempt to control the industry and that it would be impractical for the federal government to try.

ON HIM: ANOTHER! Pictures of the "most beautiful" girl in various parts of the universe stream in. This is Miss Lena Relli, elected as the most beautiful of her type in Italy.

SAYS MAJORITY FAVOR PROHIBITION

ALBANY, N. Y., June 6.—"The citizens of countries beyond our borders should not lay too much stress upon the lawlessness that exists in a few of our large cities," Governor Percival D. Baxter said today in a letter to Miss L. Wilkinson, office secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, with headquarters in London, who asked for his views on the prohibition situation.

"These great cities," he added, do not furnish proper standards by which to judge our country, for in them center the lawlessness and crime that brings so much misery to our people, and their pernicious influence extends through all strata of society. The great bulk of the American people are in favor of prohibition and never will vote for its repeal."

Governor Baxter declared the people of Maine never would countenance a repeal of prohibition and that "the law is respected by the citizens of the state and is enforced by our civil authorities."

BURNETT VALENTINE

Of outstanding interest in connection with the graduation of the 1923 class from the Lowell Textile school yesterday afternoon was the announcement of prize and medal winners by President Charles H. Fames and the fact that three of the five winners were young men born in far-off China adds no little significance to this commencement feature.

There are five prizes or awards for which we are not aware, none of which is easy to obtain, for competition is stretched out over the entire four-year course and winners must show continuous scholastic ability of high grade.

Of premier importance is the bronze medal offered by the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers for the best scholastic standing throughout the entire school course in all subjects, some of which must be in the cotton department. This award went to Burnett Valentine, president of the athletic association of the school, editor-in-chief of "The Pickout" and holder of other class, athletic and social honors. He was a student in the engineering course and began his fight for scholastic honors early in his freshman year. His home is at Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

Charles H. Kendall of Somerville was awarded the Bigelow prize of $75 in gold for the highest standing for three years in all subjects in the wool manufacturing course. He has been active in school life and was business manager of the 1923 "Pickout." The Bigelow is offered by Edward A. Bigelow, vice president of the Hopdale Mfg. Co. of Worcester, a trustee of the school and an alumnus of the class of 1905.

For the best thesis presented at graduation by a student in the department of chemistry and dyeing there is a cash prize of $100 for the best thesis, written on any subject, read at graduation and in case two students present such a thesis jointly the award is equally divided. This happened to be the case this year when the thesis on "A Comparative Study of the Properties of Yarns of Equivalent Counts," presented by T. C. Wang and Hsueh-Chang Hsu, fellow-countrymen of Chen Wang, received the prize. It is believed that these young men in the textile industry of their native country, to which they plan to return.

The Saco-Lowell Shops annually offer a cash prize of $100 for the best thesis, written on any subject, read at graduation and in case two students present such a thesis jointly the award is equally divided. This happened to be the case this year when the thesis on "A Comparative Study of the Properties of Yarns of Equivalent Counts," presented by T. C. Wang and Hsueh-Chang Hsu, fellow-countrymen of Chen Wang, received the prize. It is believed that these young men in the textile industry of their native country, to which they plan to return.

Alleged Wife Slayer Ends Life in Jail

HARTFORD, Conn., June 6.—John A. Carlson of New Britain, accused on April 27 of the murder of his wife by drowning on March 24, committed suicide in the county jail in this city this morning. His case was to have gone before a grand jury tomorrow for determination of the degree of the murder charge. Carlson hanged himself by using two handkerchiefs made fast to the cell bars. His body was found after he had dressed and had breakfast. Carlson, a plumbing contractor, 44 years old, was arrested on the night of April 26 in New Britain and after he was questioned by the police, it was announced that he had confessed that he caused his wife's death on March 24, when their automobile overturned into a pond in the southern section of New Britain. Carlson was said to have told the police that he placed a cushion on his wife's head and sat on it, holding her beneath the surface of the water. County and local officers investigated the death for a month before taking Carlson into custody. Carlson and his wife were married 24 years ago. Two sons live in New Britain.

There Are Many Ways of Building a Camp Fire But Be Sure to Put It Out

BY LORNE W. BARCLAY,
Director, Department of Camping,
National Council Office, Boy Scouts
of America

Do you know how to build a fire? Or what the most important thing is about a campfire?

Every boy who goes camping—who hopes to go—should be well versed in these essential branches of the woodman's craft.

Answering the second question first: The most important thing about building a fire is the very last thing to be done—putting it out. You must learn that first of all; otherwise you may do unintentional injury to other campers, to yourself, or to the woods.

When your grandfather was a boy, gas stoves and electric heaters were not the common and familiar objects that they are today. He had to know how to lay a fire, indoors and outdoors, and how to keep it going, so that it would provide heat and a place for cooking as well.

There are several different types of fires that Boy Scouts learn to build on their hikes and in camp. Those include the Star fire, the Reflector fire and the Hunter's fire.

First of all: Never dig a hole for a fire. Always build it on rocks or the bare ground. Otherwise leaves and dry material may catch fire and great damage result. When a fire is built in a hole it is harder to put out and you may leave it, thinking it has been extinguished only to find later that you were mistaken.

Notice the illustrations accompanying. In the case of the Reflector fire and the Hunter's fire, sticks are first laid on the ground as supports for the logs placed across them.

If you have a backyard you will find it interesting and instructive to try to lay these three different types of fires by reproducing the illustrations.

First select and arrange a mass of small dry twigs, grass, shavings, branches and sticks. The Star fire is the easiest to build when you haven't got an axe or hatchet. It is the sort of fire the Indians built in order to save chopping wood. By crossing the logs, and adjusting them from time to time, you can have a good fire

DELANEY SAYS HE WILL ASK SUPT. MOLLOY TO TENDER RESIGNATION

Charges Discrimination Against Him and Alleges Derogatory Statements Have Been Made by Department Head—Similar Charges Brought Against Business Agent and Supervisor of Janitors at Meeting Last Night

Charging Supt. Molloy with having said unfair things about him, Thomas B. Delaney of the school board, stated last night at the regular meeting of the committee that he will prove his charges and then will ask the superintendent to resign. Mr. Delaney also charged the business agent and supervisor of janitors with a similar offense.

Supt. Molloy attempted to reply to Mr. Delaney's charges, but the argument was cut short by Mayor Donovan, who stated that there may be an opportunity later for both men to be heard.

Mr. Delaney's charges were brought following a statement by Dr. Slaughter in which he claimed that Mr. Delaney was discriminated against by the superintendent in connection with a meeting of the committee on Rules. He claimed that Mr. Molloy got in touch with every member of the committee with the exception of himself and Mr. Delaney, having delegated the business agent to communicate with them. To this Mr. Molloy replied that it was customary for him to have the business agent carry messages to members of the board, and he denied any discrimination against any one.

In the course of the meeting James M. Mulligan, who headed the civil service list of janitors, was elected a permanent janitor. It was also voted to request the city council to recommend a site for the erection of the proposed new Edison school in the South End district.

The meeting opened at 8 o'clock with all members present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Albert Edmund Brown was granted permission to conduct a concert in the high school auditorium on the afternoon of Sept. 17. The monthly payroll was read and approved.

Mr. Bruin brought up the matter of the various school funds and said in his opinion they should be under one head. Mr. Delaney said he was of the same opinion. Mr. Harris, head master of the high school, said that if the funds are to be placed under one head, they should come under the commercial department. Some members of the board objected to a change in the funds and Mr. Delaney asked why the objection. "I do not question that the funds are not handled properly," he said, "but I believe all funds should be under one head." It was finally voted to lay the matter on the table until the next meeting.

Mr. Molloy presented a list of graduation dates for the high and elementary schools and it was approved as read. The superintendent was instructed to make plans for review classes for certain grades of the high school and the 7th, 8th and 9th grades over which a coffee pot can be hung by putting up two crocheted sticks with a cross-bar.

The Reflector fire was built by the pioneers in front of the tent, so that it reflected the heat inside. Two layers of logs are arranged, one on the ground and the other propped up. You will find this fire will last a long time. The Hunter's fire is so called because a pot or bucket can be placed directly on top of the logs for boiling.

of some grammar schools for the vacation period. The matter of text books was brought up and it was stated that lists will be sent to all members of the board.

Mr. Molloy made suggestions for the accommodating of pupils in certain districts in September. He suggested that he be authorized to change the lines of certain districts, saying he would not use the Billings street school again as it has been closed for three years.

He suggested that some new portable schools be purchased for certain districts. Mr. Bruin wanted to know when the portable school business will be done away with, and stated something along that line must be done soon. Mr. Molloy said he advocated portable schools only because he did not want main school buildings crowded in September.

Dr. Slaughter said she was opposed to a junior high school in the Butler school district until something was done in the Edison school district. Mr. Delaney was also opposed to portable schools. Questioned by Mr. Delaney, Business Agent Williams said the single portable schools cost $2200 and the double about $3000. Mr. Delaney moved that the superintendent's recommendation be laid on the table and that the superintendent bring in a plan of new boundary lines for the Washington, Morey and Lincoln school districts and that a physical survey be made by the state board upon the question.

A Matter of Brains
Mrs. Pearson said she did not understand Mr. Delaney's motion, and Mr. Delaney retorted: "It is not my fault if the members do not have brains enough to understand things."

"I don't claim to have brains," said Mr. Reilly, "but I, too, don't understand the motion." Considerable discussion followed and Mr. Bruin offered an amendment to the motion, but the amendment was lost in the scuffle and the motion presented by Mr. Delaney finally was passed.

A request for a $100 salary increase was presented by the janitors' association and the matter was referred to Sub-committee.

On motion of Mr. Delaney the business agent was instructed to secure prices on certain instruments for the high school orchestra. Mr. Riley suggested that the superintendent conduct an investigation relative to the opening of kindergartens in congested districts.

Dr. Slaughter submitted a report of the sub-committee of the school board and city council relative to the proposed new Edison school, stating that both committees went on record as favoring a building containing not less than 30 rooms, and that the building be erected either on the South common or on land adjoining it. She offered a motion that the city council be asked to recommend a site for the new building and it was so voted. Dr. Slaughter also submitted a report of the state building inspector relative to conditions at the old Edison school. A motion was offered that the report be laid on the table, but Mr. Bruin objected on the ground that if the building is unsafe something should be done at once. In the course of the discussion that followed, Mr. Bruin said that while the inspector did not come right out and state the building is unsafe, his report is practically to that effect. On roll call Mr. Delaney's motion was lost. Mr. Delaney then moved that the council be requested to make an appropriation for the repair of the school and the motion was carried.

The matter of paying the janitor at the Elliot school during the Twilight league season was brought up by Mr. Riley who felt that the janitor should be paid every week instead of at the end of the season. It was brought out that the janitor of the school, who looks after the shower baths for the baseball players, should be paid by the league and not by the school department. Mr. Riley said last year he was paid by the school department. The matter was finally laid on the table until the next meeting.

The Lowell High School Alumni association was granted permission to hold a reception to the 1923 graduates of the school in the school hall on June 25. Mrs. Pearson suggested the building of an outdoor track for the high school track team and it was voted to instruct the business agent to ascertain the cost of the building of a track at Alumni park.

An appropriation of $50 was voted for the establishing of a white line in the safety zone districts. Business Agent Williams was instructed to purchase five pianos for the high and elementary schools at an expense not to exceed $3200.

The matter of electing a janitor was brought by Mr. Delaney and James M. Mulligan was chosen of the board, receiving the votes of Messrs. Bruin, Delaney, Mulligan, Riley, Dr. Slaughter and the mayor. Mrs. Pearson voted for Eli B. Hart. The meeting adjourned at 11:05 p. m.

Cars Derailed Near Essen—German Boy Killed

BERLIN, June 6.—A freight train was wrecked last evening at Linton, near Essen, by unknown persons, says the Central News. Many cars were derailed and smashed and the embankment at the point of the crash was torn up and traffic halted.

A German school boy was shot and killed at Dusseldorf by a guard at a French post, the agency also states. A crowd attempted to lynch the soldier responsible, but was prevented by the German police.

REPEAL OF CONNECTICUT DRY LAWS-TABLED

HARTFORD, Conn., June 6.—An attempt to breathe life into a petition calling for the repeal of Connecticut laws concerning enforcement of prohibition, failed yesterday when the house referred the matter to the next general assembly.

A joint resolution was introduced in the senate directing the judiciary committee which has thus far ignored the bill, to make a report tomorrow. The senate passed the resolution by a vote of 15 to 7, but it met a speedy death in the house when it was tabled for 1926.

Mitted by a woman bandit in Chicago. Tesmer was returning with his wife after a short visit with his sister. Just when he started to back his automobile into the garage, the girl and man stepped out from the shadows and commanded the couple at the points of pistols, to put their hands up and get out of the car.

Her companion stood silently by as the girl searched both captives. The purses of Mr. and Mrs. Tesmer yielded only a small amount of money. The girl demanded jewelry but scorned the watch which Tesmer promptly handed over.

As the male bandit struggled with Mrs. Tesmer in an attempt to force her wedding ring from her finger, Tesmer moved and without a word, the girl bandit swung her pistol around and fired one shot. He fell, dying instantly.

Mrs. Tesmer hysterically fell over her husband's body as the bandit pair sped away in the automobile.

Arrested on Suspicion
Eugene Schlegel, 31, was arrested on suspicion in connection with the slaying. The suspect is believed by the police to know the identity of the girl.

NOT A KISS OF FRIENDSHIP

These two giraffes kissed by accident, rather than by intention. Mrs. Howard Felch climbed their corral at the Bronx Zoo, N. Y., to offer a dainty morsel and both reached for it at the same time.

Malamutes and Huskies of Frozen North Set Up Howl for Laddie Boy

By HENRY CLAY
JUNEAU, Alaska, June 6—An air of expectancy pervades Alaska's dogdom.

Canines are on the qui vive. Pups are wagging their tails nervously. Snar and sardonic Malamutes and huskies are going about their business as quietly as possible, but their calmness comes with noticeable effort. For something big is in the wind. Alaskan howlers have invited Laddie Boy, official companion of President Harding, to accompany the chief executive of the United States on his tour of this far North American territory. Laddie Boy! Dog aristocrat of the nation! If he'll just come north, foot!

The bid, drafted at a recent convention attended by canine delegates from every nook and trail of the north, warns Laddie Boy not to let anyone chase him out of the auto when the president starts. "And don't allow the president to talk you out of it," Malamute Bob counsels. The message assures his excellency that the choicest cuts of reindeer, whale blubber, seal, sea lion and walrus fat will be served in regular Alaskan style. And there'll be a big bout between "Jack Dempsey" and "Laddie Flippin," a hard-fighting dog just up from South America. "Trusting, exalted ruler, that you can get away with it," concludes the invitation. "We are your humble servants, The Dogs of Alaska." "Well, that's that," observed Malamute Bob, as Governor Bone stamped the message for immediate sending. "Thanks, governor, and I'm willing to bet my sharpest tusk that Laddie Boy, if he does come, will vote unanimously for your Greater Alaska program before he starts back home." And Snarling Wolf thinks so, too.

EXAMINATIONS AT THE NORMAL SCHOOL

The entrance examinations for the Lowell Normal school will be held tomorrow and Friday. The programs for both days are as follows: Thursday: 8:15 to 9:30, registration; 9:30 to 10:30, English; 10:30 to 12:30, Latin, commercial subjects; 1:30 to 4:30, social studies. Friday: 8:15 to 9:30, registration; 9:30 to 10:30, mathematics; 10:30 to 12:30, German, French, Spanish; 1:30 to 4, science; 3:30 to 5, fine and practical arts.

Clarence M. Weed, principal, has addressed the following letter to all applicants for admission to the school, outlining the method by which they will be accepted:

"In the State Normal schools of Massachusetts, which heretofore have had a greater number of applicants than could be admitted, it has been the custom for many years to make up the list for the class to be admitted in September, on July 1st of each year. This practice is outlined in the second paragraph of the blue blank entitled 'Application For Admission to a State Normal School' in these words:

CLARENCE M. WEED

"When the number of applicants for any school or department is in excess of the number that can be admitted, candidates will be considered in the order in which their applications are received at the Normal school; provided, the high school principal submits the school record and the candidate obtaining credit for 15 units by certification or examination by July 1.

"The system to be used has also been indicated in a recent communication from the state department of education, which recommends that on July 1st the list for the class to be admitted in September, 1923, be made up of those who have completed all the requirements for admission, either by certification or examination, in the order of the receipt of their applications. In case the quota of the school is not then filled the remaining number may be admitted as the result of the September examinations in the order of their applications."

"This letter is being sent to all the applicants for admission to the State Normal school in order that they may know exactly the situation and be prepared to complete their examinations on June 7th and 8th of this year as well as to be sure that the necessary blanks have been filled out and forwarded by the secondary school which they are attending."

Mr. Weed has also addressed a letter to the superintendents of schools in Massachusetts inviting them to come to the Lowell Normal school to get teachers from this year's graduating class to fill vacancies in their schools. Mr. Weed's letter has already resulted in the visiting here of several principals and more are expected during the coming week. Mr. Weed's letter is as follows:

"In response to a general demand from the superintendents of the state and in accordance with the policy of the state department, we have been discouraging superintendents from other states from engaging the prospective graduates from the Lowell Normal school."

"The time for graduation has almost arrived and the members of the graduating class are beginning to feel anxious concerning the possibilities for employment next September. We have been holding up applications from outside the state in order that the positions within the state may have first choice, but it does not seem fair to the young women, who are to be graduated, to continue this policy indefinitely."

"Consequently, I am venturing to suggest that if there are vacancies in the Massachusetts schools and superintendents are intending to apply to the Lowell Normal school for teachers for these positions, that they do so immediately."

"In the class which is to be graduated June 21st, there are several girls who have had a year's successful experience in the field and who give every promise of making excellent teachers."

"We shall be glad to welcome superintendents to the school on any week-day, except Saturday, between 9 o'clock and 2 o'clock, and to give them an opportunity to see any candidates they may wish to interview at work in the classrooms."

EARLY MORNING FIRE IN SHOE STORE

The shoe store owned by Daniel Smith, at the corner of Middlesex and Revere streets, was considerably damaged by water, as a result of a fire which started in the basement early this morning. The origin of the blaze is unknown. Very little loss will result from the fire, but water ruined a large amount of the shoes in stock. The alarm was rung in from box 219.

MIDNIGHT BLAZE
Box 25 was sounded this morning at 12:08 for a fire which started in a pile of old lumber, in the rear of the old Lane hotel, at the corner of Church and Central streets. The slight blaze was put out with hand extinguishers.

Mother is the Health Doctor

How Contagions Spread —Children are the victims

CHILDHOOD knows no snobbery. In the world of school and play, all children are equal. Youngsters from homes less clean than yours come in intimate contact with your children.

Mothers are often shocked at the ugly skin diseases their children contract. Your children are lucky if they escape with nothing worse.

For great medical authorities constantly warn against the filth that soils the skin of children. It is not "clean dirt"—it is highly dangerous. In it are countless disease germs.

You cannot prevent exposure to it, but you can do much to prevent its effects. You must make sure that the youngsters are completely cleaned, perfectly purified, whenever they come in from the street.

Combats the Danger

Your great ally is the health soap—Lifebuoy. This remarkable soap contains an ADDED ingredient. It is the famous health element that penetrates each dirt-laden pore. Rich, creamy lather carries it into every cranny of the skin. The effects are unique. Circulation is stimulated. Blemishes yield. The skin is deodorized. Dangerous dirt is removed. Your husband and children need this sure protection. And you'll find they prefer this fine soap. Men especially prize it. That's why so many men have clear, radiant skin.

Give it to them freely. Be sure a cake is at every place where there is running water.

You can always recognize the true health soap by COLOR and ODOR. Natural, rich palm-fruit oil is red. So Lifebuoy is RED. The unique health element gives Lifebuoy its pungent, healthful odor. Rely on Lifebuoy.

WORLD COURT ISSUE

In predicting that the United States will enter the World court, Congressmen Rogers must have considerable faith in the ability of President Harding to overcome the opposition to his advocacy of our entering that court. It is very evident that, in spite of strong opposition in some quarters, there is a growing sentiment in favor of our participation in an international court of justice for the settlement of international questions that without such a court might result in war.

It is easy to defend the president's course by strong argument, just as it is also easy to oppose that course by advocating adherence to the old-time policy of isolation and non-interference in old-world affairs. It happens, however, that we are already very much involved in old-world affairs. We have to depend upon foreign trade for the disposal of our surplus products and, in addition to this, we retain the Philippine Islands in the Eastern hemisphere as a colony under our jurisdiction. If they belonged to Japan or to England, it might be said that they were held under imperial sway; but being under control of the United States, they simply constitute a colony which is already in the enjoyment of a large measure of self-government.

All this simply means that if we should hold aloof from this movement for the restoration of settled conditions in Europe, the old-world powers combined in the League of Nations and an international court of justice, might do certain things that would be regarded as very much opposed to our American interests. If such a thing should happen, we should then have to contend with not one power alone but practically all of the old-world powers combined. It is contended that it would be better to have a voice in the decisions of the world tribunal than to be an outside party, perhaps to be victimized by prejudiced decisions of that court.

Hence this question of joining the world court is bound to become a bone of contention in the next political campaign. It would seem that in adopting this policy, the republicans are trenching upon the policies of the democratic party and practically reversing their attitude of four years ago. There is a revolt in the party, of course, led by Chairman Adams of the republican national committee with Senators Borah of Idaho, and Senator Meade of New Hampshire as strong backers of the opposition. It will be fought out among the leaders at Chicago when settling upon a party platform. Secretary Hughes is committed to the court issue; and it is expected that Senator Lodge will also fall in line. Despite his opposition to the League of Nations, it is likely that he will be guided by political expediency as usual in the present instance, and give his support to the president—with reservations.

THE TELEPHONE OPERATORS

While we are not familiar with the particular issues involved in the conflict between certain telephone operators with headquarters in Boston and the New England Telephone Co., beyond the demand of the former for a seven hour day, we believe the operators are too loyal and the company too generous to let their differences culminate in a strike.

This is a branch of the public service directed by a quasi public company, and to suspend it would cause great inconvenience. It is easy for the company to grant the demands of the operators and increase the tolls to that extent; but the public would register a big kick if forced to pay increased rates. It is, therefore, clearly a case for arbitration, in order to have the issues fairly decided and to avert the possibility of a strike. Should a strike occur, the company would thereafter have to protect itself against such a possible interruption of the service either by having a reserve force or by an independent contract with the operators' union, which might prove as inconvenient to the operators as to the company. Better get together and let the controversy be settled by arbitration.

By some the seven hour day may be considered unreasonable. It is and it isn't. It all depends upon the kind of work the operators have to do. In the Boston and Maine station in Boston, men work four hours at a time, and then have to wait for a message whenever they please. You will see the operator receiving communications from central writing down and attending to them, and then the same time taking numbers from patrons as they come and receiving the pay for the calls completed. With all these transactions in progress, the men to keep a record of all calls and receipts.

We have witnessed these operators and wondered how they could agree to so many duties in detail, all at the same time, and all requiring the greatest accuracy. If an operator has to do that kind of work, a seven hour day would leave her a nervous wreck in three months. We have heard of great men, Caesar and Napoleon, for example, who could read, write and give audience at the same time; but such a performance is simple and easy compared to what one of the telephone operators at the switchboard in a public exchange has to do. In the rush, at least, such work as we have mentioned is nerve-racking and no girl can stand it very long without shattered nerves. This, of course, is to be considered. In our humble opinion, without assuming to pose as an authority, we believe that three hours of such service as we mention, would be far more worthy than eight hours of ordinary office work.

COAL

There is enough coal underground in our country to last us 6023 years at the rate we're using it now, says R. Z. Virgin, editor of the Coal Trade Review. That is not counting Alaska, which has enough unmined coal to supply the states west of the Rockies for 1000 years.

It should be remembered that Nature's laboratories are still busy with the chemical processes by which coal of all kinds is formed, so that striving as we will, we can never exhaust the natural supply. This may not be true of a small country like England, on which forest and other natural surface growths are limited by the density of population; but in a large country such as the United States, the supply of coal in the earth is still being increased by the decay of vegetable growths and their transformation by the effect of heat and pressure. In most estimates the brush and growth of various kinds upon mountains and usually decays and settles into the earth layer on layer, first forming a vegetable substance resembling peat and finally with the lapse of ages solidifying into coal. It is plain, therefore, that in this country the natural supply of coal will never be exhausted, the only question that concerns most of us being how we can get as much as we need at a reasonable cost. We need to buy anthracite at $5 to $5 per ton. Now it is nearly three times the amount. Moreover, if we do not get our winter supply in during the present summer, we may have to pay a much higher price in the fall, as the men now in the White House is of the easy sort that never stamped his foot so as to make some of the coal barons quake or to convince the recalcitrant miners that he might use a part of the great power placed in his hands to protect the public against outrage and extortion.

FOREIGN SHIP PROTESTS

The government is in a quandary in regard to the enforcement of the prohibition law against the ships of foreign nations entering our ports with liquor on board. It seems that the treasury department has made some sort of compromise by allowing "a reasonable quantity" which will be taken to mean enough for medicinal purposes, and beyond that the prohibition law is to be enforced.

Already the announcement that the government will enforce this regulation upon foreign ships has brought many protests from foreign governments. The French vessels will carry the usual supply of wine for their sailors and the sailors of certain lines of vessels plying between that country and the United States have announced that if the prohibition regulations be enforced on reaching American waters, they will go on strike. Some other liners have directed their port of destination to Havana, and still others to Halifax. It seems that this ruling would seriously injure our foreign commerce if persisted in; but we cannot imagine that our government can pursue a policy so positively opposed to the policy of nations.

GOVERNOR BAXTER

Governor Baxter of Maine gives out a long statement in defense of his action in placing the state in mourning for the death of his dog by putting the state house flag at half mast. He defends his action by saying that he wishes to arouse our people to a newer realization of their responsibilities to dumb animals. If he had offered, as a reason for his action, the recognition of the centenary of George T. Angell, he would have avoided most of the criticism. He asks whether the country would criticize President Harding for putting the White House flag at half staff if death overtook his "Laddie Boy." We feel that the president is as much attached to "Laddie Boy" as any man can be to a canine pet, and yet, we do not believe he would think of lowering the flag if "Laddie Boy" passed to the happy hunting grounds. There is a good deal of false sentiment in regard to dogs and their relation to humanity. It is but right that they should be well treated, but it is more important that men, women and children should be well treated, and yet, some men seem to have more feeling for a canine than they would have for a human being.

Laddie is the state that has no greater cause for mourning than the death of a dog.

PROF. HART'S HISTORY

Professor Hart's history of the United States is among those condemned in a recent issue of the Boston Herald. The book is being tugged with foreign propaganda, judging from some of Professor Hart's public utterances. It would not be surprising if this were true. A number of his histories have been used in one of the local grammar schools so long that they are now practically worn out. We have never heard of any complaints in regard to the alleged un-American coloring of historical facts. But if the history has any such bias, it should be eliminated and the serial department has already decided to replace it by a book that is not under fire.

As times pass, new evidence comes to the front, showing that we need new traffic regulations at various points in the city, although the rules in force have accomplished great improvements over the conditions that previously prevailed. The traffic officers at certain street intersections are becoming indispensable and without their services much confusion and many serious accidents would occur.

If the city has any unused property on its hands, it is a good thing to get rid of it. It would be better to dispose of such property and apply the funds for some necessary purpose than to allow it to remain without bringing any return to the treasury.

Henry Ford may be a candidate for president, but if so, he is not devoting sufficient attention to it, to prevent him from attending to his business. His factories still turn out one auto every four seconds.

SEEN AND HEARD

This school of experience you hear about is a high school.

Two wrongs never make a right, but usually get one left.

A fool laughs when his wife gets mad, while a wise man runs out and takes in a movie.

The middle of this month is when we borrow enough money to pay our income tax again.

At a Sunday school rally held among the Protestant Episcopal churches in a large city on the western coast the banner for attendance for several months was won by the Chinese school.

Members of Parliament and their guests ate 23,772 luncheons, 36,241 dinners and 13,510 teas in the refreshment rooms at the houses of commons last year, but only 42 breakfasts were served.

Rev. Earl H. Thayer of Springfield, who has been in poor health for some time, performed a marriage ceremony while sitting up in bed when he married Charles G. Lind and Miss Mary L. Norton.

A Thought
High honor is not only gotten and born by pain and danger, but must be nursed by the like, else it vanisheth from us. It appears to the world.—Sir P. Sidney.

Guess He Was Sick
"Rastus," began Sambo, as the two were swapping war incidents. "Wuz you ever sick when you wuz in France?" "No, man," responded Rastus. "I had the grippe and the shingles, but I look in the casualty list for mah own name."

Alternate Insomnia
"You look tired this morning, Bill," said the head bookkeeper to one of the office clerks. "I can't sleep." "No, my wife and I suffer from alternate insomnia," "Alternate insomnia! What is that?" "Whenever gets to sleep first keeps the other awake all night."

One of His Tricks
A small child was traveling her first ride in a subway train. Suddenly the train passed over a switch and the lights went out for a moment. When they went up again, the little girl said, "Did you do that, daddy?" Daddy denied it. "Well, replied his small daughter, "It's just the sort of thing you would do."

The Talking Woman
"The woman next door" is really dreadful, Richard," said the young married woman. "She does nothing but talk the whole day long. I'm sure she can't get any work done." "Oh," remarked her husband, "to whom does she talk?" "Why, to me, dear, of course," was the reply, "over the fence."

No Free Lunches
A steady young fellow was pointing out to the sport of the family how much prohibition has done for those of sporting tendencies. He was making rather a good case of it. It was palpable, he indicated, that the former sport, unable to secure liquor, was becoming a family figure in clothing stores, shoe stores and even in book stores. The former sport, however, while not denying these things, was determined to have a grievance. "That's all very well," he grumbled, "but nobody serves free lunch."

The Wedding Cake
A man went into a bakery the other day. "I'm getting married next week," he began, "and I want to buy a wedding cake." "I suppose you know," said the girl behind the counter, "it's the latest thing to have wedding cakes, eh?" "Yes, yes," he replied, "but I want a cake with one's business or profession. For instance, an athlete would have a cup cake, a man who gorges his friends a sponge cake, and so on. What, may I ask, is your calling?" "I am a doctor," the bridegroom answered. "I'll give you a prescription," said the girl, smiling. "One would, of course, prescribe an angel cake."

Unconquerable
Always we dream of things that cannot be. Always we build bright castles in the air. Brave as Gibraltar rising from the sea, Frail as the soaring spindler rainbows, Clinging to beauty that will swiftly die. Stumbling across the world we take our way. Trailing our path will somehow reach the stars. Sure that the end is worth the price we pay.

Sharp are the stones that bruise and blisters we climb to reach the shining stars. Dreaming of happiness we shall not find. Yearning of love that leaves no hidden scars. Many the dreams that mock us from the dust. Yet shall we dream again—for dream we must.

EDUCATIONAL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

It was announced at the annual business meeting and election of officers of the Educational Club held yesterday afternoon in the Central Methodist church that the officers of the society would be held June 21 at the home of Mrs. Leggat at 137 Westworth avenue. The officers elected were as follows:

President, Mrs. Elizabeth Durning Leggat, first vice president, Mrs. Charles Leggat, second vice president, Mrs. W. W. Whitely, secretary, Mrs. W. S. Leggat, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Thomas Wade, treasurer, Mrs. Horace Leggat.

Mrs. H. J. Maguire, retiring president of the organization, was highly complimented by the gathering of 150 members for her efficient and loyal work for the past year. The other officers were also given much praise for their labors of the past year. An excellent entertainment program followed the business meeting. Those who took part in the affair were Miss Dorothy Leach, piano selections, Mrs. H. G. Stummonds and Mrs. E. M. Hartlett in songs and recitations, which songs were rendered by Mrs. Leach and readings were given by Mrs. Victor Hickson, Mrs. Alex. Allen and Charles of the entertainment.

Mrs. A. M. Rickett, chairman of the hospitality committee, in a charge of the remainder of the program, and the serving of refreshments.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The pilgrimages to Rome and Lourdes this summer, under the auspices of the National Holy Name society, are creating much interest among Catholics throughout the country.

There are three pilgrimages, one June 30, one July 7th, and the final on July 14th. The pilgrimage sailing on July 7th, is proving of especial appeal as this one has arranged for being in Lourdes on the Feast of the Assumption, August 15th. There will be a special audience for each of the groups with the pope and unusual courtesies and privileges will be obtained for the pilgrims. An attractive itinerary has been arranged. A Dominican father will be spiritual director of each group. Miss Mary C. McDonough of 24 Peaseville road, Dorchester, is secretary for New England. The pilgrimages are not confined to members of the Holy Name society.

In an article in the current issue of the Century Magazine, Rev. Willard L. Sperry, dean of Harvard theological school, answers the question as to how an educated gentleman may be known. It has been under discussion and very few dared to formulate an answer. Dr. Sperry says: "We know enough about human life at the present moment, to say how the mind of an educated man works, and what its characteristics are. Such a mind must, before all else, observe accurately, then it must proceed logically. After that it must achieve a power of discrimination, a power of observation, logical reasoning, discriminating judgment, it must then add imagination. These are the essential characteristics of a firsthand mind, educated to think freely for itself." Much light is thrown on this subject in "Newman's Character of an Educated Gentleman."

The airplane is rapidly becoming recognized as an efficient means of transportation, particularly in communities where time is a deciding factor and the terrain is of a nature that makes overland journeys by means of ordinary modes of travel. Freight, passenger and mail routes have been established between many of the larger cities through the country, and now comes the word of a Boston to New York aerial route. Lowell business men who have occasion to make purchases or sales in the metropolis could find the air route a solvent for the vexing time problem, which at times prevents the completion of many important transactions. Word comes from Canada that the airplane will be used in the northern provinces to bring the voters to the polls for the June 25 general election, on account of impassable roads. The idea has already been suggested to take the voters to the sparsely and scattered settlements to the voting place. Airplane fliers they say, will soon be as common as its namesake the Ford.

Col. George Vidmer, executive in the office of the cavalry, is making plans to raise money for the erection of a memorial stadium at Washington, D. C., to commemorate the young men who fell during the World war, believing the stadium to be the most fitting memorial to the fallen heroes. The stadium would be used to hold all of the events of national importance, particularly those of an athletic nature. The major league clubs will be asked to donate the proceeds of one game to the project and college teams will be asked to play one game in the stadium, the money taken in going to the stadium fund. The colored believes that as practically every young man in America participated in athletics to some extent, the stadium will fill the needs of a national memorial.

Prosperity or business depression can be accurately judged from the number of applicants who seek admission into the army and navy, declare veteran recruiting officers Sergeant J. T. J. Kimball and Chief Water Tender R. Greenleaf, who have found the work for the past several months rather rough and trying in the Lowell district. According to the results obtained by these officers, Lowell must be in the midst of a business boom, as the navy within the past month received two companies of recruits, the army, however, would indicate the opposite. Conditions through the country are about the same, according to reports from Boston headquarters, where only 56 men were signed the past month by the 15 men on recruiting duty. Portland, Maine, leads New England with 32 enlistments assembled by a crew of nine.

The Textile graduation, though an affair of real simplicity, is very important to cities such as Lowell and the other mill cities of New England. Mr. Charles H. Eames, president of the school, deserves great praise for the remarkable way in which he runs the school and also for providing such important industrial services at a graduation. Quiet though he is, everything that he plans is put over in a smooth way that impresses one that a real executive is guiding the affairs of the school.

GIVE THE PLANNING BOARD A CHANCE

Secretary Raymond M. Humphrey of the city planning board said yesterday that he believed the traffic situation and the zoning question to be the two biggest matters before the planning board and that both these had been discussed by Arthur A. Shurtliff, city planner from Cambridge, who made a recent preliminary survey here, and that the bill introduced by Councilman Maurice J. Lambert, Jr., relative to a traffic commission, would indicate upon the rights of the planning board. He also asked that the planning board be given a chance to make good before other commissions be named to do its work.

GAVE EXHIBITION AT POLICE STATION

Captain Robert B. Miller of the American Red Cross, with the assistance of Clarence E. Towne, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., gave an exhibition of the Schaefer or prone method of resuscitation for the benefit of the day and early night men of the police department in the Market street building last evening. In view of the possibility of near-drownings with the advent of the warm weather, the best proved instructive and interesting.

For the feet bath use a weak solution of this disinfectant to tired and aching feet and relieve the unpleasantness arising from perspiring feet.

Coburn's disinfectant has many household uses. It is a delightful purifier.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

June Gladness

In June, when the moon's getting busy,
All life is a drink that is fizzy.
And whether you're fifty or only fifteen
The thoughts of romance do a dance through your bean.
Oh you feel bold and brave
And you're sure to behave
In a manner decidedly dizzy—
In June, when the moon's getting busy.

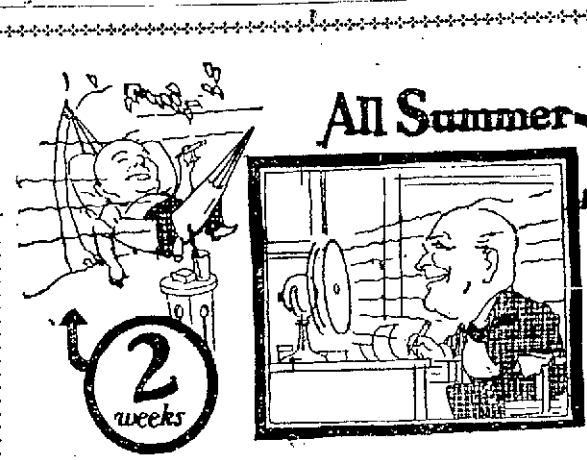

In June, when the moon's getting busy,
Rebecca grows fonder of Lizzie,
And Gwendolyn, mazed by the moonlight, discovers
That Reginald's all she has dreamed of in lovers.
And cautious men say things they never had planned
And drivers drive slowly with only one hand (That's true of a Packard and true of a Lizzie
In June, when the moon's getting busy.)

In June, when the moon's getting busy,
The stern woman-hater, where is he?
He's out in the moonlight, bemused by its charm,
With a feminine waist in the crook of his arm.
And one of the sex he is prone to disfigure
Will presently lead him a captive in marriage;
For the blood's sort of whirly and whizzy,
And the head is exceedingly dizzy.
And life is a wine that is tingling and fizzy;
In June, when the moon's getting busy!

WORCESTER WOMAN ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

WORCESTER, June 4.—Mrs. Annie De Part, 30, of Plum street, mother of four children, was placed on trial before Judge Nelson P. Brown and a jury on a charge of second degree murder of Salvatore Martucci on April 11 by shooting him while he slept. The government charge is based on an alleged confession made by Mrs. De Part the morning of the shooting, when she surrendered herself at police headquarters and gave up a revolver which she said she had used in killing Martucci because he had threatened her life if she did not go to Springfield with him as a white slave to earn money for him so that he might have an operation performed on his face.

PRES. HARDING TO MAKE
19 SPEECHES ON TRIP

WASHINGTON, June 6.—President Harding will make 14 addresses en route to the Pacific coast on his Alaska trip, and will speak in five coast cities after returning from Alaska, according to an official announcement of the executive's itinerary, made public yesterday at the White House.

The addresses en route to the coast will be made in the cities and on the dates following:

St. Louis, June 21, evening; Kansas City, June 22, evening; Hutchinson, Kan., June 23, afternoon; Denver, June 24, evening; Cheyenne, Wyo., June 25, afternoon; Salt Lake City, June 26, evening; Pocatello, Idaho, June 28, morning; Idaho Falls, June 28, afternoon; Idaho Falls, Idaho, June 28, afternoon; Butte, Mont., June 29, morning; Helena, Mont., June 29, evening; Spokane, Wash., July 2, evening; Meacham, Ore., July 3, Portland, Ore., July 4, afternoon, and Tacoma, July 5, morning.

Returning from Alaska the president will speak at Vancouver, British Columbia, July 26, evening; Seattle, July 31, evening; San Francisco, July 31, evening; Los Angeles, August 1, evening, and San Diego, Aug. 4, afternoon.

Announcement also was made that on the trip to the coast the president will make brief visits to Zion and Yellowstone national parks, and on the trip down the Pacific coast will stop at Yosemite National park. The address at Meacham, Ore., will be in connection with the trial anniversary celebration.

Final details of the itinerary with respect to addresses were worked out yesterday by the president in conference with Walter F. Brown, chairman of the commission on reorganization of government departments and an advisor of the executive. Mr. Brown left Washington last night to confer with local committees on details of the president's visit to each of the 18 cities.

The itinerary in Alaska has been only tentatively worked out and will largely be dependent upon the president's desires on reaching the territory and also upon transportation facilities. The executive plans to spend about two weeks in Alaska.

Details of the return by way of the Panama canal and Porto Rico likewise remain in a tentative state, although it has been announced that the president would sail from San Diego on the shipping board steamer President Harrison. Only a day or two will be spent in the canal zone.

MAIL ORDER HOUSES
MUST HAVE LICENSES

CONCORD, N. H., June 6.—In response to a query from the secretary of state, Atty. Gen. Hinkley has ruled that mail order houses come within the scope of a law passed by the legislature of 1922 regulating the sale of firearms. This means that every such house must have a license issued by the state of New Hampshire before it can sell a pistol or revolver to a resident of this state and that such purchase must have a license for the purchase before making it.

90 N. H. TOWNS HAVE
NO PHYSICIAN

CONCORD, N. H., June 6.—The bulletin of the state board of health issued yesterday gives the results of a survey of New Hampshire showing 90 towns out of 235 to have no resident doctor. It was this condition which caused the recent legislation to authorize the subsidizing of physicians from town treasuries, a law which has been taken advantage of by two towns, Epsom and Deerfield.

The total population of the doctorless towns is 41,155, four of the towns having between 1000 and 2000 residents each. In the case of 16 of these towns less than five miles travel is necessary to reach a doctor, and in only four cases is a resident doctor more than 10 miles away.

JUDGE WAS LATE BUT IT WASN'T HIS FAULT

PLYMOUTH, June 5.—Judge Stanley E. Qua missed the 9:05 a. m. train from Boston Monday and the opening of the June sitting of the superior court here did not take place in the morning as expected, but at 2:15 in the afternoon when His Honor finally arrived on a later train.

It is very seldom that a judge is missing at the hour for court to open and especially Judge Qua, who is noted for his punctuality. He was not to blame, however, for Monday's occurrence as he started early enough from his home in Lowell, but at the North station he hired a taxicab, as he afterwards explained, to rush him across the city to the South station.

The taxi got into a jam on Washington street, causing an annoying delay, and then ran into another in Dewey square, so that he got to the South station late in time to see his train moving out.

Sheriff Blake was called up and told what had happened. The hundreds of waiting lawyers, their clients and witnesses in divorce cases on the list to be tried were informed.

Judge Qua made up for lost time, however, when he got here and court was ceremoniously opened, not only disposing of scores of motions in equity cases, but hearing a dozen uncontested divorce cases, sitting until after 4 p. m. to clean up practically the whole list.

BOY DROWNED IN THE
WESTERN CANAL

Romeo Goulet, aged 14 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Goulet of 633 Middlesex street, drowned last evening in the Western canal in the rear of the Davis & Sargent Lumber Co. in Middlesex street. The boy with a couple of companions was playing on a raft when suddenly he fell overboard. His companions extended the oars to him, but the boy was unable to grasp them, and shortly afterward disappeared below the surface.

The people were notified of the drowning and the canal was dragged till midnight but without success and the search for the body was resumed this morning. Deceased is survived by his parents and three sisters, Aldora, Alva and Irene Goulet, all of this city.

The smallest thing on earth is the atom. The biggest thing on earth is the up and atom.

AFTER "BIG FELLOWS" IN SEVERE PENALTIES FOR BOOTLEG WORLD DRY LAW VIOLATORS

NEW YORK, June 5.—The "big fellows" in the bootleg world will receive the attention of the small force of federal prohibition agents in New York from now on, R. Q. Merrick, federal enforcement officer for the state, said today, after a surprise raid last night on the Hotel Pontchartrain, the most important since the repeal of the Mulian-Gage law.

The hotel, a ten-story structure, was searched from attic to cellar. The raid lasted four hours and a considerable quantity of liquor was found and the officers of the hotel Claus Kohling and George Beckman were summoned to appear before U. S. Commissioner Hitchcock today.

Mr. Merrick said that the raid was but a forerunner of others.

INCREASING SCARCITY OF LABOR NOTED

BOSTON, June 5.—An increasing scarcity of labor is noted in the May report of the Massachusetts department of labor and industries. Although employers called for only 242 persons, a decrease of 6 per cent. from April, the number of positions filled was 164, or 7 per cent. more. Applications in May numbered 5 per cent. less than in April.

There were 33 per cent. fewer applicants for positions in attendance at bureaus than in May, 1922, while 20 per cent. more positions were filled and 10 per cent. more persons were demanded by employers.

MAYOR HYLAN UPHOLDS HIRSHFIELD'S REPORT

NEW YORK, June 5.—Upholding the criticisms made by Commissioner of Accounts Hirshfield in his recent report on an investigation of American history books, Mayor Hylan today passed the report on to the board of education with instructions that it "note the suffocating atmosphere of British propaganda which envelops the condemned volumes."

HEAT KILLS ONE IN OHIO

15th Day Without Rainfall —Mercury Nears Record Breaking Marks

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 5.—Overnight reports from over Ohio showed one person dead and one woman and one man prostrated by the heat wave which has gripped the state for four days and sent the mercury to near record breaking temperatures for this time of the year. Three other deaths by drowning were reported in Ohio.

This is the 15th day without a general rainfall.

Springfield, with a reported temperature of 94 degrees, was the hottest place in the state yesterday.

CHARGE ACTIONS BY EX-PRES. WILSON ILLEGAL

WILMINGTON, Del., June 5.—Allegations by the government that certain official actions by President Wilson in connection with the sale of 1500 German dye patents, trade marks, etc., to the Chemical Foundation, Inc., were unwarranted, were challenged in the United States district court today by Isador J. Kresel, of counsel for the defense, in the suit of the government for the return of the patents.

The suit was brought by the present alien property custodian, it being contended by the government that patents worth many millions of dollars were sold at an inadequate price to the Chemical Foundation, a Delaware corporation, of which Francis P. Garvan, former alien property custodian, is president.

It was charged in the opening statement of the government yesterday by Henry W. Anderson, assistant attorney general, that the order of President Wilson conferring upon Assistant Secretary of State Frank L. Polk, official authority to act for him, in the sale of the German patents was illegal. Mr. Kresel today held that the prosecution was an attempt to use the field act of a president engaged at the time in the travel pit work of conducting a great war. It was the first time, he said, that the judicial arm of the government was invoked to set aside the official action of the president in such an emergency.

Kresel's defense would show the course pursued in respect to the sale of these patents under the law was one of the greatest achievements that came out of the war.

MADE HOBOES BY WAR EXPERIENCES

NEW YORK, June 5.—Thousands of young men have been made virtual hoboes as the result of their World War experiences. Brig. Gen. Underwood of the Salvation Army said today before a conference called to discuss the situation, attended by representatives of 60 New York agencies dealing with homeless men.

These men are being slowly ruined by a mild form of insanity for which physicians have yet found no cure, he said.

It manifests itself in the form of wanderlust and mental unrest, inability to remain in one place for any time or hold a position, regardless of how pleasant or promising the circumstances may be.

FRAUD AMOUNTING TO $50,000 CHARGED

GENEVA, June 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—A charge of fraud upon the former Austro-Hungarian imperial family, amounting to $50,000, in connection with the sale of the royal jewels, has been lodged against Baron von Stelner, secretary of the late Emperor Charles, by Archduke Maximilian, brother of the ex-emperor, who was appointed guardian of the former royal children by Charles' will. The action was initiated by the archduke from Saint Gall, through a Swiss lawyer.

A warrant has been issued by a Berne judge for Baron von Stelner and also for his wife, accused as an accomplice.

SOCIETIES HOSTILE TO CATHOLIC CHURCH

KING, Me., June 5.—This year has witnessed the re-emergence of the so-called "bogus oath" and the springing up of societies that are fundamentally hostile to the Catholic church and particularly to the Knights of Columbus. State Deputy Edward F. Miskery of Portland stated in his address at the annual meeting of the state council, K. of C., here today.

"Certainly no student of American history would ally himself with a class who seek to destroy the wonderful handiwork of the forefathers of this country who formed our present constitution based upon the equal rights of all citizens, with leaders, selected for a limited period, from the masses," he said.

FLOUR PRICES DROP
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 5.—Flour prices dropped to the lowest in six years when one of the largest mills here cut the price to cents a barrel on flour today. The new low was $2.25 a barrel for the highest grade of family patents when sold in car lots in 95 pound cotton sacks.

MARSHALL SEES MENACE OF CLASS LEGISLATION

HAMILTON, Ohio, June 5.—Thomas R. Marshall, former vice president of the United States, declared there is a menace of class legislation in a commencement address here today.

"Laws ought to be far-removed from the storm and tumult of political and economic life," he said. The old American order was an order of representative government, consisting of three branches, one to make laws, one to interpret them and one to execute them. It was an effort to remove law-making, law-prosecution and law-enforcement from a sudden burst of anger and passion that sways the minds and judgment of the best of men.

"It is up to the American people pretty soon to determine whether they care to maintain this old fashioned system of government which preserved the life, liberty and property of its citizens, or whether they are about to plunge themselves into the experiment of a new democracy where the shifting tides of the passion of self-interest or class interest vary standards from day to day."

"The new idea of democracy inevitably tends to legislation by classes, and once the classes have obtained control of government, then every one class will take charge of affairs, and that will be the ending of democracy. The tyranny of a class is just as inimical to the rights of the people as the tyranny of a single man sitting as the representative of an unlimited monarchy."

"The new idea of democracy inevitably tends to legislation by classes, and once the classes have obtained control of government, then every one class will take charge of affairs, and that will be the ending of democracy. Note Apparently Fails to Mention Cessation of Passive Resistance in Ruhr

PARIS, June 6.—(By the Associated Press)—The rejection of Germany's new reparations offer was foreshadowed in official quarters here today.

While awaiting the text of the note, French officials drew attention to the circumstance that the note apparently fails to mention the cessation of passive resistance in the Ruhr, which is considered practically a sine qua non to the beginning of negotiations.

Even if it should develop that the note makes some suggestion regarding passive resistance that could be discussed with the Germans there is no assurance that the note would form a basis for further parleys. For instance the French do not conceal their disapproval of the reported proposal for a moratorium until 1925 and elastic annuities thereafter without the naming of a definite total sum.

The accident happened Nov. 15, 1920. Curtis and Eichenberg of Boston are appearing for the plaintiff. Trull, Wier and O'Donoghue represent the railroad.

THE PARK COMMISSION

Cawley Claim Discussed at Last Night's Meeting—
Other Business

"It looks like a badly bungled job," said City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds last night at the meeting of the park commission when he was asked for his opinion concerning the William F. Cawley claim for $600 for the buildings formerly known as the Wiggins wood yard on the addition to Varnum park on First street.

The Cawley claim was the first taken up by the board, of which three were present, Clarence M. Weed, chairman, Harvey B. Greene, and Alexander E. Buntree. William D. Regan, former city solicitor, presented Mr. Cawley's side of the case and the present city solicitor and Miss Rivet, of the solicitor's office, told their side of the question. Mr. Regan claimed that William F. Cawley, after several attempts to buy the Wiggins property, finally got the property after the owner's death and secured a lease from the owner of the land, a Mr. Miller. Then the city stepped in and tried to get the property for park and street widening purposes. Mr. Miller, according to Mr. Regan, promised Mr. Cawley that he would sign no deed until the latter was promised at least eight months on the property. Then the city seized the land and treated the buildings as if they were their own and has moved the office building around. The whole Cawley case rests upon a letter which is in the hands of the present solicitor and which was shown last night. According to Mr. Regan, the head of the last year's government made arrangements whereby Mr. Cawley would receive $600 for the property and this letter is Mr. Cawley's acceptance of the offer.

Miss Rivet then told of her knowledge of the matter, which coincided generally with Mr. Regan's case, and the city solicitor stated that it seemed as though Mr. Cawley should be paid the money. Mr. Weed also stated that he thought there was a moral obligation to pay the bill but asked as to where the money was to come from. The matter was finally referred to the city solicitor for the preparation of a veto to be taken at next Monday's meeting.

Several petitions for the removal of trees were read and referred to the tree committee.

A delegation from the Pawtucketville Improvement association, consisting of Rev. Arthur G. Lyon, Cornelius Cronin, and William H. Rigby, came to the meeting to discuss the plans for the memorial which they intend to erect near Pawtucket square. Two years ago, according to Mr. Cronin, the Boston Art commission, the park commission, and the committee on the memorial, and since that time nothing has been done, so the purpose of their visit to the park board was to ask that permission be granted to start work on the memorial. Mr. Rigby also rehearsed several of the discussions that have been held concerning this memorial and asked for definite action. According to Mr. Weed, the park commission cannot fairly grant their petition until they comply with the request of the Boston Art commission, which was jointly invited to investigate this matter, and send them a plan of the memorial on the site for their approval.

Mr. Cronin asked that, if the art commission approved the plans, would the board grant the permit, and Mr. Weed refused to bind himself in any way, but said that when the approval of the art commission is received, then the board will act as it sees fit, but Mr. Weed also told Mr. Cronin that he did not intend to have the monument of the two-year delay laid at the door of the park commission for he felt that it was up to the committee more than to the park board for forwarding the plans to the art commission for approval. Mr. Cronin then said that what he would like to do would be to have the Pawtucketville Improvement association buy some land and put up their monument and then let the park commission keep their waterfront park.

The final decision on the matter was to send plans to the art commission as requested and when their approval is received, bring the matter back to the park commission for a permit.

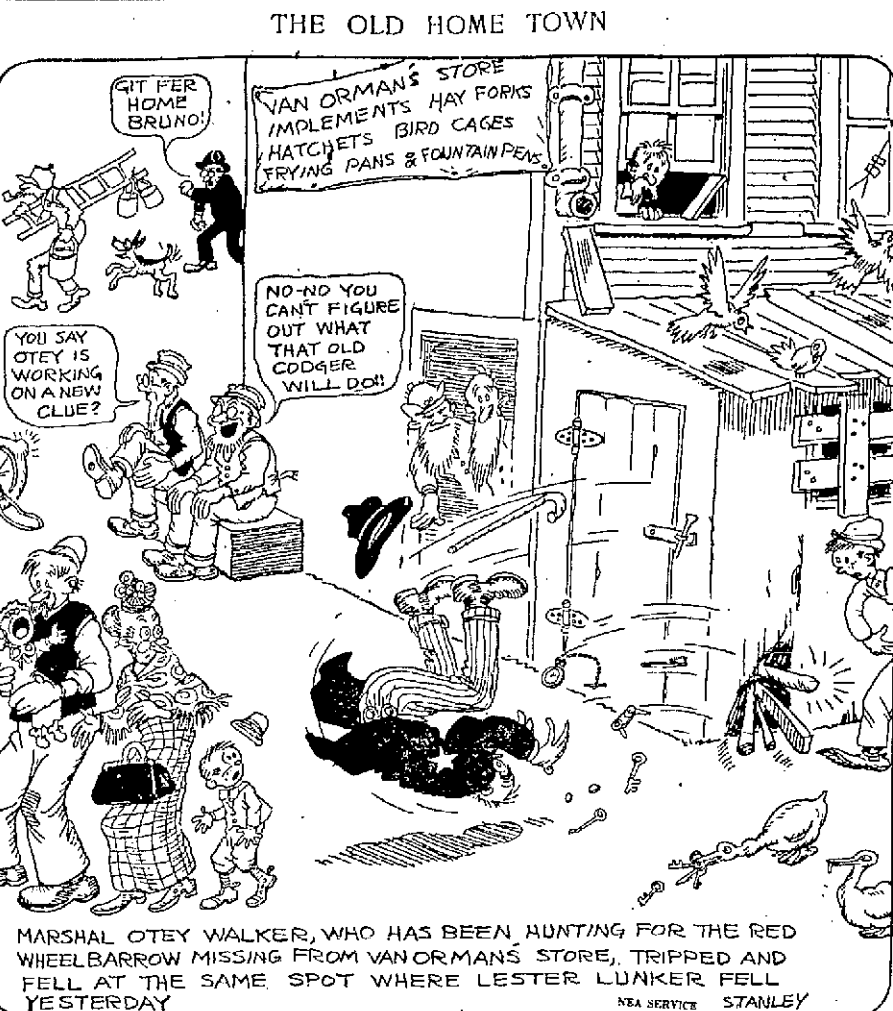

A letter was read from William C. Doherty, of Doherty Bros., who properly address the Washington park ball field, protesting against breakages in their roof and windows caused by baseballs. Supt. Kernan stated that he had screwed their windows and the matter was closed.

It was voted to instruct the Civil Service board to submit a list of playground teachers to the park commission.

The next matter taken up was the question of granting a permit to the Sella-Flo circus for July 12.

Supt. Kernan was instructed to forward to Robert A. Nelson and James E. O'Connor notices served by the city of New Bedford by Richmond avenue, Hudson street and Chase street for playground purposes. Councilmen Chadwick and McFadden appeared before the board to discuss certain playgrounds in their sections of the city, and the latter to arrange for a meeting of a committee from the city grounds section with the park commission. This meeting was set for next Monday.

The meeting adjourned at 10:30 and will next Monday evening.

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE IN WASHINGTON

Definite plans for the trip of Lowell city officials to the waterways conference in Washington on June 11 for the discussion of the proposed development of the Merrimack river from Lowell to the sea for the purpose of navigating the river, were made today at a conference between Mayor John J. Donovan and James J. Gallagher, president of the committee.

The mayor has allowed total traveling expenses of $750, or $125 each for six men. The mayor definitely told President Gallagher he will not take the trip and designated the committee president as his official representative, others who will go from the city to favor the proposition are Councilmen Frank K. Stearns, John J. McFadden and Arthur G. Lyon and City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds.

It has not been fully decided whether the trip will be made by motor, railroad or boat and rail but the route will be picked tomorrow. If the party should travel by motor car, a chauffeur will be taken along and if it is an all-rail trip City Messenger Owen Monahan may be the sixth representative of the city. These details will be settled before tomorrow night, it is believed.

Cost of Repairing Fire Damage Greater Than

The cost of repairing the fire damage at the Mann school will be considerably greater than was anticipated based upon an edict issued by the state inspector of buildings and Chief Edward F. Saunders of the fire department, who have stipulated that the floors and walls of the automobile repair department of the Vocational school must be wire-lathed and hard-plastered in order to make them fire-retarding.

Originally the plans for repairing the school called for wooden lathes and the substitution of wire-lathing will mean greater cost.

City Building Inspector Francis A. Connor, whose men are doing the repair work, will alter his specifications to conform with the orders now issued by the state inspector and fire chief, who have made a thorough inspection of the building.

FINED FOR MAINTAINING LIQUOR NUISANCE

John Berard of 12 1-2 Middlesex street was arraigned in the district court this morning and was found guilty of maintaining a liquor nuisance. He was ordered to pay a fine of $50. Berard was taken into custody on May 13 by Officers Clyde Aldrich and Alfred Killey of the liquor squad who told of going to the premises on the night in question and finding 144 quarts of beer and 109 empties. While they were questioning the defendant, they said, two unknown men knocked at the door and Officer Aldrich admitted them. He asked them what they wanted and was told that they desired beer and that they had purchased it in the same place on previous occasions for 25 cents the bottle. Going to a rear room with the proprietor, one of the men is alleged to have returned with the statement, "It's all right now. I've been put through the third degree. Let me have a drink."

Two bottles were seized by the officers for the purpose of making an analysis, which showed the contents to be of the 37.5 per cent alcohol.

Berard said that the two men who came while the officers were present were strangers to him and admitted paying a fine of $100 for illegal keeping on Sept. 25, 1922, but since that time, he said, he has made nothing but home brew and that for his own personal use. When the $50 fine was imposed, Berard entered an appeal but later withdrew and paid the fine.

DISCUSS CELEBRATION OF JULY FOURTH

Realization that another July Fourth and Independence day is rapidly approaching was brought out today when the matter of the municipal celebration, including a display of fireworks, was discussed by the mayor and President Gallagher of the council.

There is an appropriation of $1000 for the Fourth this year, the major portion of which probably will be expended for fireworks. Within a day or so all of the big fireworks manufacturing companies will receive a letter from the mayor asking for programs and prices.

SLEEP ON ROOFS AND SIDEWALKS

Dwellers in Crowded Boston
Tenements Take to Roofs
and Streets to Escape Heat

Others Flock to the Common and Charles River Embankment

BOSTON, June 6.—Dwellers in the crowded North End tenements took to the roofs and streets last night to escape the heat. On some of the narrow streets, every inch of the sidewalk was covered with bedding. The pavements had been cooled a little by sprinkling with fire hoses during the evening, which process the youngsters enjoyed shower baths. From the equally congested West End, a large proportion of the residents flocked to the common and the Charles river embankment to spend the night on the grass.

Many prostrated.

The lowest temperature during the night was 72 and during the day the mercury began to climb again, although a southwest breeze tempered the heat and clouds gave promise of showers. Yesterday's maximum temperature of 84 degrees during the evening equaled on June 5, but the weather bureau records show a number of July days in other years which were hotter. It was the highest temperature recorded in this city since July 25, 1921. A number of persons were prostrated but no deaths due to the heat were reported.

Showers Predicted

ALBANY, N. Y., June 6.—Weather bureau predictions of local thunder showers and lower temperature brought solace today to this city, which sweltered in the heat wave of yesterday. The maximum official temperature yesterday, 84 degrees, was the highest recorded here since the same date in 1899. High humidity added to the discomfort and there was scarcely any breeze.

Downpour Brings Relief

DETROIT, June 6.—A downpour of rain last night followed by showers throughout the night and early today, broke the back of the heat wave in Detroit.

Charles Obrey, a patrolman, was seriously injured by a high tension wire which had fallen to the pavement and which he was trying to remove from the street. Charles Brady, hog raiser from Michigan, was struck by lightning and partially paralyzed. Poles and trees were blown down in many parts of the city.

Three well-known Lowell boys, Timothy M. Tully, George J. M. Grant and Walter C. Shea, will receive the degree of bachelor of arts at the annual commencement exercises of Boston College at University Heights, West Newton, on Wednesday, June 20. He was a Carney medal scholar of the 1916 class of the Lowell high school and the following year he graduated from Boston College high school. During the war he received a 2d lieutenant's commission in the infantry and is at present attached to the infantry officers' reserve corps. He is an accomplished musician, and was vice president of the B. C. club of Lowell in 1922-23. His plans after graduation are undecided.

George J. M. Grant is a nephew of Dr. Emma Y. Slaughter of the local school board and makes his home at 314 School street. During his college career, he has made an enviable record as a student and intends to enter medical school after graduation.

Myles J. Finnegan is a graduate of the Billerica high school, class of 1919. At Boston college he was conspicuous as a member of the debating, dramatic and musical clubs. He took a leading part in a recent senior class production.

Dainty Girl, Scarcely Out of Her Teens, Sought as Bandit and Murderess by Chicago Police

"Only a Drunk" In The Prison Cell

While a hundred thousand Lowellites were endeavoring to cope with the tropical atmosphere which pervaded the city last evening, a lone inmate, sat in his secluded cell in the Market street police station with nary a breeze to cool his fevered brow, nor a solacing hand to comfort him in his affliction. A brass-buttoned keeper, representing the firm arm of the law, remained on guard in more spacious quarters outside, and informed the curious that the solitary tenant behind the iron bars was "only a drunk."

"Only a drunk," but not drunk only, for the poor unfortunate was sweltering in the torrid and almost suffocating environment of a darkened, gloomy cell, the result of a previous seizure with a destructive alcoholic beverage. It was a hot night to be sure, torrid in highlands and lowlands, but it brought near-prostration to the man who was "only a drunk."

CHICAGO, June 6.—A dainty girl who might easily pass for a popular debutante, scarcely out of her teens, is being sought today as a bandit and murderess in one of the most extended police hunts on record in Chicago.

She shot and killed Richard C. Tesmer, prominent and wealthy insurance man, after directing a male accomplice in a holdup of Tesmer and his wife outside the garage at their home last night.

After firing the shot, the girl snapped commands to her companion, leaped into Tesmer's automobile and drove away as calmly as if she were

STREETS MAY BE FLUSHED TONIGHT

Unless showers come this afternoon to relieve the humidity which comprised the major part of today's heat, streets in congested districts will be flushed tonight by fire department hose companies. Chief Edward F. Saunders said this noon he has made arrangements to have this done in case no rain falls.

Although the humidity today was more pronounced the temperature did not rise to yesterday's high mark and a south-west breeze blew steadily and brought a measure of relief.

Last night was as uncomfortable as any the city will experience all summer, and restful sleep was out of the question in thousands of homes. There was hardly a breath of air and it was not until early morning that the heat of the day gave way to a more cooling condition.

LOWELL MEN APPOINTED BY COX AS MEDICAL AND ASSISTANT MEDICAL EXAMINERS

Rep. Victor F. Jewett was notified today by the governor's secretary that the governor sent to his council today for confirmation the names of Dr. Marshall L. Ailing and Dr. Mason D. Bryant for medical and associate medical examiners for the 5th Middlesex district, comprising Lowell, Haverhill, Tewksbury, Billerica, Chelmsford and Tyngsboro.

Under the rules of procedure of the governor's council, their nominations will be held on the table for one week, when they must be approved or rejected by a majority vote.

The appointment of Dr. Ailing promotes him to the position held by the late Dr. Thomas B. Smith and is only for Dr. Smith's unexpired term, which runs until 1924. This means that next year both Dr. Ailing and Dr. Bryant must come up for reappointment for a term of six years.

The announcement of Governor Cox's nomination of the two Lowell physicians substantiates the news story exclusively carried by this paper two days ago.

BANDITS BIND STORE CLERKS WITH PICTURE WIRE AND FLEE WITH $70,000 WORTH OF JEWELRY

NEW YORK, June 6.—Four armed bandits entered the jewelry store of Barnett Goldstein at 97th street and Broadway at noon today, held up the proprietor's son and a clerk and escaped with $70,000 worth of jewelry. The bandits bound young Goldstein and the clerk with picture wire, filled a satchel with the most expensive gems in the shop and hurried out to a waiting automobile.

MUSICAL AT THE NOTRE DAME ACADEMY

The Academy of Notre Dame added another laurel to its wreath this afternoon when the musical, one of the elaborate programs given each year by the pupils of the Academy, was held. The stage was artistically and with our downer and palms. The set, dotted here and there with greenery and palms, was crowded to its doors with relatives and friends of the pupils.

Rev. John J. McElarry, D.D., Rev. James Supple, D.D., and His Honor Mayor John J. Donovan, occupied reserved seats. The clergy of the local parishes and of surrounding cities also attended.

The orchestra, composed of the pupils of the academy, capably rendered choice selections.

Miss Estelle Coffey, a well known harpist, delighted the audience with a tuneful Irish melody.

During the course of the program, honors were awarded to a number of young ladies for their proficiency in music.

One of the most pleasing numbers, perhaps, was the greeting by the little girls, representing sunbeams. The little ones addressed the pastor, in

It's a Different D. W. Griffith But Same Mae Marsh in New Film

By JAMES W. DEAN

NEW YORK, June 6.—The two im-portant things to report about "The White Rose," shown here for the first time, are that Mae Marsh is still the same fine actress that she was when she left the screen several years ago, and that D. W. Griffith is a different Griffith.

Griffith has mellowed. Griffith once thrilled the multitude with charging men and horses, with beautiful heroines in deep agony, with the clash of arms, and the thumping of skulls. Combat, in its most spectacular phases, was the keynote of his motion pictures.

The new Griffith is a poet. Always an idealist, he is now an idealist, a poet, using the quiet splendor of bayou, floating flowers and moss-

"Chronic liver trouble and diseased kidneys made life a pretty sad affair for me. It was continuous suffering that made it impossible for me to give my best to my work," says Mr. Sullivan.

After years of trying medicines that did me no good, I started taking DRISCO. Immediately I began to feel much better. And after taking two bottles of this wonderful remedy, I feel like a new man. All the years of suffering from liver and kidney troubles, vanished. I am now a healthy man.

circumstances are set for a poignant progression of fateful happenings. A girl leaves an orphan asylum and obtains work in a Louisiana winter resort hotel. Cast into the world, the budding woman, she soon acquires the hard virtues of life and contact with crude men and girls. But she is still the same sweet girl within.

The youth, about to enter the ministry, sets out to see something of the world. His path crosses that of the girl. When they part, the youthful minister, though he knows the girl, is to be far away. It isn't their farewell, intentionally or unintentionally, the minister is led then and there to believe that only tragedy can come of this love affair.

Later, the girl is dying after being buried about with her baby and brought back to life by a rain storm that would bring death to almost anyone. Fate—and D. W. Griffith—leads her to a negro shack on the plantation of the young girl the minister has just proposed to. And there the story ends, the heroine and the other girl marrying a young fellow who had loved her all along.

At the start the picture proclaims itself as having been based on fact. It is so, life itself. It is my good rules of dramatic art. It is my good idea, D. W. Griffith's interpretation of life. The picture is not in the least a violation of the rules. The spectator should not have been tricked in to expecting a mish of sackcloth and ashes and be given a milk and honey ending.

Little more could be said for Mae Marsh than that she is as effective as she ever was. Any number of our feminine stars would be paid a pretty compliment were they called as talented as Mae Marsh.

"The White Rose" marks the debut of Ivor Novello, English actor and screen writer in American films. He is unusually handsome and a capable actor, although he still has much to learn about camera technique. He will be immensely popular with the ladies.

Carol Dempster is bright, beautiful and intelligent and that is all that is needed of her in this picture. Griffith took advantage of every opportunity to show Novello and Miss Dempster in close-ups without one object in the background to detract from the projected portrait.

NEIGHBORHOOD SOCIAL AT SHEDD PARK

Five hundred residents of the Oaklands joined in a most enjoyable neighborhood social at Shedd park last evening, which was so successful that others are bound to follow. In many ways the event was unique from a community viewpoint and it brought young and old together for an evening of much pleasure, fun and sociability.

At first planned on a much smaller scale, to embrace children only, the idea appealed to so many of the residents in the Shedd park section that elaborate plans were worked out by a committee of men and women and the results were satisfactory in every particular.

The affair began shortly after 7:30 o'clock when the participants gathered round a refreshment booth and were served frankfurts, lemonade and lollypops. It was a sufficient supper for such a hot night and was thoroughly enjoyed.

On the Shedd park area games were played for several hours and the younger people enjoyed dancing, with music furnished by a victrola set up by the park commission. There were balloon races for the children and favors were distributed to all who attended.

Among those who worked in preparation for the affair were David Birchall, Mrs. John P. Mahoney, Mrs. Robert Douglas, Mrs. Gustave Holmes, Mrs. Everett H. Prescott, Mrs. John Bowers, Mrs. James Finn, Miss Florence Barrett, Miss Elizabeth Bradley, Mrs. Ruth Sample, Mrs. John Conway, Mrs. S. L. Goggin, Charles L. Boutlier, Theodore Burns, Patrick Barry, Robert Douglas and Miss White.

BRICKLAYERS BETTER OFF BUSY DAY FOR THE SHRINERS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 6.—Several hundred retail merchants would be better off if they were bricklayers and plasterers. Roger W. Babson told the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the world today.

"There are 1,000,000 retailers in the United States today," he said, "and 100,000 of them are doing a profitable business, and 400,000 more are doing a fair business. But a million of these retailers are barely struggling along. Those who are not operating at a loss are merely getting day wages and small day wages at best."

"Yes, the retailers of the country bear the same relation to the country's industries as the common soldier to the army. The prosperity of the country is ultimately dependent upon the efficiency and prosperity of the retailers."

"Some say that there are a million too many retailers and the solution is to eliminate several hundred thousand of them. The solution lies not in eliminating a million retailers, but in showing them how they can work efficiently and how they can be of the greatest possible service. This is the great task facing American business men today."

BUSY DAY FOR THE SHRINERS

Army and Navy Exhibits, Rowing and Concerts on Program

Session of the Imperial Council Came First in the Order of Events

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Army and navy exhibits, rowing and swimming events and concerts by the score, were among the variety of events on the program for the entertainment today of the hosts of Shriners here for their 10th annual conclave. A session of the Imperial council came first in the order of events.

The naval features included a "battle" staged by the naval destroyers Worden, Reed and Reuben James in the Potomac river, and a torpedo firing demonstration by the Worden. Other service events were an army air meet at Bolling field and infantry and engineer exhibits on the Washington monument grounds.

Several thousand of the visiting Shriners and their wives had accepted the invitation of the marine corps to make a trip down the Potomac to the marine base at Quantico, Va., returning later in the day after witnessing a specially arranged war game on the maneuver grounds.

The day's events close with a parade of uniformed nobles. The brilliant lighting on the avenue will add to the spectacle.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

William E. Oatman, on parole from the state farm, was returned to that institution this morning when he pleaded guilty to drunkenness in the district court. On a similar plea, Susan Waldron was sentenced to one month in the house of correction, to illegal keeping and paid a fine of $100, and two others were continued, as follows: Myer Bayarsky, for assault and battery, to June 13; Louis Veres, for assault and battery, to June 9.

James L. Robertson was found guilty of non-support and, given a five months' sentence to the house of correction suspended for two years with the understanding that he contribute $7 weekly to his wife in the meantime. He was also ordered to furnish bonds of $300 to keep his agreement.

Marie Mark, of a wandering tribe of apples, was ordered discharged on a insanity complaint, the complainant having received her money back and not wishing to press the charge.

Women Should Take Warning

If the statement made at a New York assembly of women, that healthy American women are so rare that they are almost extinct, is true, it is time for the women of America to take warning and look to their health. It may be headaches, backaches, dragging down pains, nervousness, mental depression that are tell-tale symptoms of some organic derangement for which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—a simple remedy made from roots and herbs—is a specific and may be relied upon to restore women to a healthy normal condition.—Adv.

SPECTACULAR DEMONSTRATION

2,000,000 Volts Made to Do Bidding of Man Operating Small Switch

Mighty Flashes Play in Laboratory "Village" About Heads of Witnesses

PITTSFIELD, June 6.—The greatest amount of energy ever concentrated by human ingenuity—more than 10,000,000 horsepower—was created, toyed with and finally docilely placed back in its cradle yesterday by a single man.

The significance of this spectacular demonstration was that twice as much electrical voltage as ever before was produced and safely handled but also made to do the bidding of a man operating a small switch with all the unfathomable wizardry of a magician bringing rabbits out of a hat.

A small part of a millionth of a second the power was equal to all the electrical power in America.

The exact voltage was 2,000,000, which, as estimated by Charles P. Steinmetz, an electrical expert, is one twenty-fifth the power of a bolt of lightning.

The demonstration was made in the Pittsfield laboratory, renowned among electrical men as the center of experiment in transmission lines. It was in charge of P. W. Peck, Jr., who directs the high voltage research, and Giuseppe Pacellotti, chief electrical engineer of the Pittsfield works.

Mr. Pacellotti said the layman might get some conception of the power handled when it was realized that the greatest single amount of electrical voltage now transmitted for public use is 220,000—that in California, Mr. Peck pointed out that the objective was to keep research ahead of need—so that when it is desirable to carry 2,000,000 volts in a wire, it can be done.

"We may be able to create that which it took ages to create through evolution," Pacellotti said. "Only possibly. Nobody knows. Diamonds? It would be also if I could have my own little plant making them, eh? But it is a great speculative field, and much more comes to it."

A model village was built, and the electricity, transformed into a bolt of lightning, was whipped back and forth and up and down, striking the lightning arrester of a little church steeple.

The electrical experts shot the lightning through realistic clouds which rolled and thundered while rain they produced fell in torrents.

The engineers were interested in the effect of their bolts upon pieces of walnut, which touched by the great voltage, disappeared from sight and left no perceptible residue.

POWER INDUSTRY IN ITS INFANCY

A Few "Super Power" Systems Will Supply Electrical Energy to Entire Continent

Entering New Era of Development, Says Westinghouse Official

NEW YORK, June 6.—"In time a few 'super-power' systems, drawing upon all economical sources of power within the areas they cover, will supply electrical energy to the greater part of the North American continent," General Guy E. Tripp, chairman of the board of directors, Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co., predicted today.

The electric light and power industry is an infant compared with the railroad, shipping, telephone, telegraph and gas industries, he told delegates attending the National Electric Light Association and no one can predict its future, though, he added, it is plain it is entering a new era of development.

There is a tendency to connect groups of electric generating plants, he explained, to form composite systems for the more economical production of energy. Individual plants are disappearing into the spreading systems because they cannot compete with them and it is well that they are merging, he said.

General Tripp said these "super-power" systems would become vital to our national prosperity and must, of necessity, be monopolies, and being so, would be shining marks for the advocates of government ownership.

The efforts of these earnest theorists will be multiplied exceedingly and we shall but deceive ourselves, if we believe that their doctrine will be unheeded by the public and politicians.

General Tripp said legislatures should determine as soon as possible "the irrevocable minimum of regulation" that will afford complete protection to the public and at the same time promote electric power development to the greatest possible extent.

He deplored the action of the government of Maine which has prohibited exportation of its water power, saying it represents one more obstacle to the completion of the general plan.

Gen. Tripp asserted that it would be impossible for municipalities or states to attempt to control the industry and that it would be impractical for the federal government to try.

BURNET VALENTINE

Of outstanding interest in connection with the graduation of the 1923 class from the Lowell Textile school yesterday afternoon was the announcement of prize and medal winners by President Charles H. Eames and the fact that three of the five winners were young men born in far-off China.

There are five prizes or awards for which seniors may strive, none of which is easy to obtain, for competition is stretched out over the entire four-year course and winners must show continuous scholastic ability of high grade.

Of premier importance is the bronze medal offered by the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers for the best scholastic standing throughout the entire school course in all subjects, some of which must be in the cotton department. This award went to Burnet Valentine, president of the athletic association of the school, editor-in-chief of "The Pickout," and holder of other class, athletic and social honors. He was a student in the engineering course and began his fight for scholastic honors early in his freshman year. His home is at Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

Charles H. Kendall of Somerville was awarded the Bigelow prize of $75 in gold for the highest standing for three years in all subjects in the wool manufacturing course. He has been active in school life and was business manager of the 1923 "Pickout." The Bigelow is offered by Edward A. Bigelow, vice president of the Hopdale Mfg. Co., of Ware, a trustee of the school and an alumnus of the class of 1906.

For the best thesis presented at graduation by a student in the department of chemistry and dyeing there is a book prize having a value of $20 and this year it was awarded to Chen Wang, native of China and a graduate of Tsinghua college before coming to this country to progress further in his chosen vocation of chemistry and textile dyeing. Professor Louis A. Olney has offered this brilliant young man a post-graduate course and to give to him, if he accepts, the distinction of receiving the first Master of Chemistry degree ever awarded by Lowell Textile school.

The Saco-Lowell Shops annually offer a cash prize of $100 for the best thesis, written on any subject, read at graduation and in case two students present such a thesis jointly the award is equally divided. This happened to be the case this year when the theses on "A Comparative Study of the Properties of Yarns of Equivalent Counts," presented by T. C. Wang and Hsueh-Chang Hsu, fellow countrymen of Chen Wang, received the prize. It is believed that textile that great success awaits these young men in the textile industry of their native country, to which they plan to return.

SHIP LIQUOR QUESTION

Officials Tell Diplomats Question Purely One of Domestic Jurisdiction

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Diplomats in Washington who have discussed the ship liquor question with state department officials have had it pointed out to them that the question is purely one of American domestic jurisdiction and therefore not subject to treatment through any joint international conference.

The American government does not propose to seek such a method of adjustment or to accept any proposals of that nature from an outside source. The question of rules and regulations under the supreme court's interpretation of the prohibition enforcement act is wholly a matter for congress. It is held, and so far as known that viewpoint has not been challenged in the correspondence with various governments.

There Are Many Ways of Building a Camp Fire But Be Sure to Put It Out

BY LORNE W. BARCLAY,
Director, Department of Camping,
National Council Office, Boy Scouts
of America.

Do you know how to build a fire?
Or what the most important thing is about a campfire?

Every boy who goes camping—or who hopes to go—should be well versed in these essential branches of the woodman's craft.

Answering the second question first:
The most important thing about building a fire is the very last thing to be done—putting it out. You must learn that first of all; otherwise you may do unintentional injury to other campers, to yourself, or to the woods.

When your grandfather was a boy gan stoves and electric heaters were not the common and familiar objects that they are today. He had to know how to lay a fire, indoors and outdoors, and how to keep it going, so that it would provide heat and a place for cooking as well.

There are several different types of fires that Boy Scouts learn to build on their hikes and in camp. Those include the Star fire, the Reflector fire and the Hunter's fire.

First of all: Never dig a hole for a fire. Always build it on rocks or the bare ground. Otherwise leaves and dry material may catch fire and great damage result. When a fire is built in a hole it is harder to put out and you may leave it, thinking it has been extinguished only to find later that you were mistaken.

Notice the illustrations accompanying. In the case of the Reflector fire and the Hunter's fire, sticks are first laid on the ground as supports for the logs placed across them.

If you have a backyard you will find it interesting and instructive to try to lay these three different types of fires by reproducing the illustrations.

First select and arrange a mass of small dry twigs, grass, shavings, branches and sticks. The Star fire is the easiest to build when you haven't got an axe or hatchet. It is the sort of fire the Indians built in order to save chopping wood. By crossing the logs, and adjusting them from time to time, you can have a good fire.

There are several different types of fires that Boy Scouts learn to build on their hikes and in camp. Those

DELANEY SAYS HE WILL ASK SUPT. MOLLOY TO TENDER RESIGNATION

Charges Discrimination Against Him and Alleges Derogatory Statements Have Been Made by Department Head—Similar Charges Brought Against Business Agent and Super- visor of Janitors at Meeting Last Night

Charging Supt. Molloy with having said unkind things about him, Thomas B. Delaney of the school board, stated last night at the regular meeting of the committee that he will prove his charges and then will ask the superintendent to resign. Mr. Delaney also charged the business agent and supervisor of janitors with a similar offense.

Supt. Molloy attempted to reply to Mr. Delaney's charges, but the argument was cut short by Mayor Donovan, who stated that there may be an opportunity later for both men to be heard.

Mr. Delaney's charges were brought following a statement by Dr. Slaughter-ter in which he claimed that Mr. Delaney was discriminated against by the superintendent in connection with a meeting of the committee on rules.
He claimed that Mr. Molloy got in touch with every member of the committee with the exception of himself and Mr. Delaney, having delegated the business agent to communicate with them. To this Mr. Molloy replied that it was customary for him to have the business agent carry messages to members of the board, and he denied any discrimination against any one.

In the course of the meeting James M. Mulligan, who headed the civil service list of janitors, was elected a permanent janitor. It was also voted to request the city council to recommend a site for the erection of the proposed new Edison school in the South End district.

The meeting opened at 8 o'clock with all members present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Albert Edmund Brown was granted permission to conduct a concert in the high school auditorium on the afternoon of Sept. 17.
The monthly payroll was read and approved.

Mr. Bruin brought up the matter of the various school funds and said in his opinion they should be under one head. Mr. Delaney said he was of the same opinion. Mr. Harris, head master of the high school, said that if the funds are to be placed under one head, they should come under the community department. Some members of the board objected to a change in the funds and Mr. Delaney asked why the objection. "I do not question that the funds are not handled properly," he said, "but I believe all funds should be under one head." It was finally voted to lay the matter on the table until the next meeting.

Mr. Molloy presented a list of graduation dates for the high and elementary schools and it was approved as read. The superintendent was instructed to make plans for review classes for certain grades of the high school and the 7th, 8th and 9th grades over which a coffee pot can be hung by putting up two crooked sticks with a cross-bar.

The Reflector fire was built by the pioneers in front of the tent, so that it reflected the heat inside. Two layers of logs are arranged, one on the ground and the other propped up.
You will find this fire will last a long time. The Hunter's fire is as called because a pot or bucket can be placed directly on top of the logs for boiling.

of some grammar schools for the vacation period. The matter of text books was brought up and it was stated that lists will be sent to all members of the board.

Mr. Molloy made suggestions for the accommodating of pupils in certain districts in September. He suggested that he be authorized to change the lines of certain districts, saying he would not use the Billings street school again as it has been closed for three years.

He suggested that some new portable schools be purchased for certain districts. Bruin wanted to know when the portable school business will be done away with, and stated something along that line must be done soon. Mr. Molloy said he advocated portable schools only because he did not want main school buildings crowded in September.

Dr. Slaughterter said she was opposed to a junior high school in the Butler school district until something was done in the Edison school district.
Mr. Delaney was also opposed to portable schools. Questioned by Mr. Delaney, Business Agent Williams said the single portable schools cost $2200 and the double about $5000. Mr. Delaney moved that the superintendent's recommendation be laid on the table and that the superintendent bring in a plan of new boundary lines for the Washington, Moray and Lincoln school districts and that a physical survey be made by the state board upon the question.

A Matter of Brains
Mrs. Pearson said she did not understand Mr. Delaney's motion and Mr. Delaney retorted: "It is not my fault if the members do not have brains enough to understand things."
"I don't claim to have brains," said Mr. Kelly, "but I, too, don't understand the motion." Considerable discussion followed and Mr. Bruin offered an amendment to the motion, but the amendment was lost in the scuffle and the motion presented by Mr. Delaney finally was passed.

A request for a $100 salary increase was presented by the janitors' association in connection with the day-ing. The matter was referred to Superintendent Thornton.

On motion of Mr. Delaney the business agent was instructed to secure prices on certain instruments for the high school orchestra. Mr. Riley suggested that the superintendent conduct an investigation relative to the opening of kindergartens in congested districts.

Dr. Slaughterter submitted a report of the sub-committees of the school board and city council relative to the proposed new Edison school, stating that both committees had agreed on a plan favoring a building containing not less than 30 rooms, and that the building be erected either on the South common or on land adjoining it. She offered a motion that the city council be asked to recommend a site for the new building and was agreed to. Dr.
Slaughterter also submitted a report of the state building inspector relative to conditions at the old Edison school.
A motion was offered that the report be laid on the table, but Mr. Bruin objected on the ground that if the building is unsafe something should be done at once. In the course of the discussion that followed, Mr. Bruin said that while the inspector did not come right out and state the building is unsafe, his report is practically to that effect. On roll call Mr. Delaney's motion was lost. Mr. Delaney then moved that the council be requested to make an appropriation for the repair of the school and the motion was carried.

The matter of paying the janitor at the Eliot school during the Twilight League season was brought up by Mr.
Riley who felt that the janitor should be paid every week instead of at the end of the season. It was brought out that the janitor of the school, who looks after the shower baths for the baseball players, should be paid by the League and not by the school department. Mr. Riley said last year he was paid by the school department. The matter was finally laid on the table until the next meeting.

The Lowell High School Alumni association was granted permission to hold a reception to the 1923 graduates of the school in the school hall on June 25. Mrs. Pearson suggested the building of an out-door track for the high school track team and it was voted to instruct the business agent to ascertain the cost of the building of a track at Alumni park.

An appropriation of $10 was voted for the establishing of a white line in the safety zone districts. Business Agent Williams was instructed to purchase five pianos for the high and elementary schools at an expense not to exceed $3200.

The matter of electing a janitor was brought by Mr. Delaney and James A.
Mulligan was the choice of the board, receiving the votes of Messrs. Bruin, Delaney, Mulligan, Riley, Dr. Slaughter-ter and the mayor. Mrs. Pearson voted for Eli B. Hart. The meeting adjourned at 11:05 p. m.

TRAIN WRECKED

Cars Derailed Near Essen— German Boy Killed

BERLIN, June 6.—A freight train was wrecked last evening at Lanten, near Essen, by unknown persons, says the Central News. Many cars were derailed and smashed and the embankment at the point of the crash was torn up and traffic halted.

A German school boy was shot and killed at a bus-station by a guard at a French post, the agency also states. A crowd attempted to lynch the soldier responsible, but was prevented by the German police.

REPEAL OF CONNECTICUT DRY LAWS Tabled

HARTFORD, Conn., June 6.—An attempt to breathe life into a petition calling for the repeal of Connecticut laws concerning enforcement of prohibition, failed yesterday when the house referred the matter to the next general assembly.

A joint resolution was introduced in the senate directing the judiciary committee which has thus far ignored the bill, to make a report tomorrow.
The senate passed the resolution by a vote of 18 to 7, but it met a speedy death in the house when it was tabled for 1925.

mitted by a woman bandit in Chicago.
Tesmer was returning with his wife after a short visit with his sister. Just when he started to back his automobile into the garage, the girl and man stepped out from the shadows and commanded the couple at the points of pistols, to put their hands up and get out of the car.

Her companion stood silently by as the girl searched both captives.
The purses of Mr. and Mrs. Tesmer yielded only a small amount of money.
The girl demanded jewelry but scorned the watch which Tesmer promptly handed over.

As the male bandit struggled with Mrs. Tesmer in an attempt to force her wedding ring from her finger, Tesmer moved and without a word, the girl bandit swung her pistol around and fired one shot. He fell, dying instantly.

Mrs. Tesmer hysterically fell over her husband's body as the bandit pair sped away in the automobile.

CITY COUNCIL FAVORS INCREASE OF SALARIES FOR MEMBERS OF ELECTION COMMISSION

Asks Mayor to Provide Additional Appropriation of $3800 to Raise Four Members to $2000 Each—Need of Traffic Relief Recognized When Action is Taken Toward Establishment of Traffic Commission—Last Pair of Mayoralty Vetoes Laid on Table

The city council last night took up the question of increased salaries for members of the election commission from the standpoint of fairness and equity and after asking Mayor John J. Donovan to provide an additional appropriation of $3800 to cover increases to $2000 per man, went on record as favoring a salary revision and ordered the new salary ordinance to be advertised.

This action followed a report from the special committee on salaries in which was the recommendation that the salaries of the commissioners be increased in consideration of additional duties and responsibilities made obligatory by the passage of the Lowell listing bill and making members of the election commission members of the listing board.

The council also took cognizance of menacing traffic conditions throughout the city and favored the establishment of a traffic commission to be composed of the superintendent of police and head of the traffic squad, the fire chief, city engineer and a member of the planning board, to study conditions now prevailing and report back to the council, making whatever recommendations deemed expedient in the matter of bringing relief.

Action on the last two mayoralty vetoes, calling for money transfers for paying a portion of Lawrence street and improving sanitary conditions in two schools was deferred.

Meeting In Detail
The full council was present when the meeting was called to order at 8:40 o'clock.

Outline hearings on pole locations took up considerable time before being referred to the public service board.

Manager Maurice E. McCormick of the local street railway division appeared in favor of the company's request for double tracks in Chestnut street as far as Main street and for a turnout in Westford street opposite Tyler park, to relieve congestion at the head of the double track.

There was considerable opposition to a petition from Frederick and Allan Williams for a gasoline license at 133 North street, where a permit for a wash stand previously has been favored. Daniel J. Donahue represented a number of persons in the neighborhood in opposition. The matter was referred to Councilman McFadden and to the chief of the fire department.

The following men were drawn as jurors: Ralph A. Rochette, 780 Merrimack; John Handley, 7 Merrill st.; Alexander Johnson, 173 Stackpole; John W. Daly, 76 Andrews; Edward F. St. Peter, 159 Fletcher; John S. Jackson, 120 Gates; John J. Doyle, 15 Whipple; George B. Bennett, 625 E. Merrimack; Joseph Woods, 76 Campos; Harry E. Hudson, 52 Billerica; Arnold J. Ryan, 90 D st.; David P. Fravelly, 16 Eastside; John J. McManis, 25 Varnum; William A. Barry, 31 Laurel; William A. Dow, 148 B st.; Frederick F. McInerney, 187 Pleasant; Dennis P. Leary, 333 Lincoln; John H. Cuff, 18 Agawam; James J. Madden, 38 Keene; John O'Toole, 257 Appleton.

President Gallagher introduced an order calling for the establishment of a traffic commission to be composed of the chief of police, fire chief, city engineer, member of planning board and police traffic supervisor.

The order was accompanied by an ordinance specifying 14 days in which the commission is to study all city traffic problems and report back to the council. The ordinance was ordered advertised.

On the receipt of favorable reports from the board of public service, orders calling for street, sewer and sidewalk improvements were adopted.

On suggestion and motion of Councilman McGovern, an order was adopted requesting the city solicitor to take necessary steps to ascertain what rights are vested in the city relative to the sale of the abandoned Warren street fire house property and to report back to the council that definite action may be taken if there are no legal entanglements.

Councilman McGovern, chairman of the special committee on salaries, stated his committee is satisfied that the election commissioners have been obliged to assume an amount of extra work and responsibility due to the passage of the Lowell listing bill and that they are entitled to receive salaries of $2000 per year.

Even though the city solicitor has ruled that the election commission lawfully cannot receive compensation above the amount originally established by ordinance, the salary committee feels the matter should be brought to a head from the standpoint of equity and recommends the adoption of the ordinance providing for a just ordinance under consideration, but has deferred action upon it pending a report from the salary committee.

The council then passed resolutions asking the mayor to make an additional appropriation of $3800 to cover salary increases for the election commissioners and on motion of Councilman Sadlier the ordinance was ordered advertised.

Resolutions submitted by Councilman John W. Daly endorsing the Schaefer method of vaccination, as explained and demonstrated at a recent meeting by Robert E. Miller of the Red Cross and C. E. Towne of the Y.M.C.A., were passed and the council went on record as favoring and encouraging the use of this method in the police department and other city departments, if the need arises.

Following the reading of a letter from City Auditor Daniel P. Martin, informing the council of the opinion of City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds that the passage of the $10,000 additional police protection order was illegal and asking the council for instructions as to his own procedure, Councilman Daly expressed the belief that the solicitor's ruling did not take cognizance of Section 33, Chapter 44 of the General Laws and the council voted to request the solicitor to give an interpretation of this section at the next meeting.

On motion of Councilman Daly action was deferred on the mayor's vetoes of the orders transferring money from prior revenues for the purpose of paying for repairs to the Lawrence street and correcting sanitary conditions at the Moody and Sycamore street schools.

Councilmen General, Sadlier and Lambert were named a committee to confer with representatives of the Master Plumbers' association relative to plumbing inspection. This is in compliance with a request made at last meeting by Councilman Lambert, who felt there is need of investigation.

Councilman Sadlier brought up the reappointment to the police force of Patrolman Peter Trassaras and asked that a letter be sent to the mayor asking what his course will be when a payroll containing the name of this officer is presented to him for approval.

"The mayor has stated he will not approve any police department payroll on which new names appear," said Councilman Sadlier, "and I would like to know that his attitude will be in this case."

Adjourned 11:20 o'clock.

CONFERENCE AT BRUSSELS

French and Belgian Ministers Hold Most Important Meeting

No Attempt Made to Hide Fact of Widely Divergent Viewpoints

BRUSSELS, June 6. (By the Associated Press.)—Today's conversations among Premier Poincare, Charles De Lasteyrie, French minister of finance, Premier Thaulm and Foreign Minister Jaspard of Belgium, are regarded in official circles as constituting the most important meeting between the two nations since the French entered the Ruhr.

No attempt is made in the Belgian capital to hide the fact that the ministers are meeting with widely divergent viewpoints as to the scope the conference should have. The Belgians practically openly have announced their intention of asking a full discussion of the reparations problem as a condition of the French entering the Ruhr. The French, on the other hand, is decidedly anxious to bring the Ruhr situation to a solution, whether it coincides with the Belgian's policy or not.

Prime Minister Baldwin of Great Britain is looked upon here as the last hope for reaching a settlement. The British premier is regarded as a level headed man who may achieve what many other statesmen have failed to do, namely settle the reparations problems.

The Belgians have prepared a definite reparations program which France is not expected to accept, as the French premier already has announced his intention of not discussing the principle of reparations.

The conference began shortly after the arrival of Premier Poincare and his party at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. Premier Poincare went first to the French embassy, where he will stay over night, as he has abandoned the idea of trying to conclude the conference today.

Experts With Poincare

PARIS, June 6. (By the Associated Press.)—Premier Poincare took with him to the Brussels conference, Minister of Public Works Le Troquer, Minister of Finance De Lasteyrie, and Count Peretti de la Rocca, director of political affairs of the foreign office.

Abstract of Proposals

NEW YORK, June 6.—What is stated to be an official abstract of the Belgian proposals on German reparations under discussion today by the heads of the French and Belgian governments in Brussels is printed by the World this morning.

According to this abstract the Belgian plan fixes the total indemnity to be collected from Germany at 40,000,000 gold marks with service on the debt computed at 6 per cent, interest plus a one per cent sinking fund, making the German payments work out at 2,800,000,000 gold marks a year.

To meet these payments, revenues from the German state railways, from special monopolies and from coal, dolomite, and other minerals, totaling 1,000,000,000 gold marks from the railways, 1,300,000,000 from the special monopolies and 300,000,000 from coal royalties. The monopolies proposed which are sole monopolies, not based on production or manufacture would be on tobacco, sparkling wines, beer, still wines, spirits, sugar, salt, matches and lighters, having electric apparatus, the marks calculated at 1,530,000,000 gold marks annually.

The monopolies would be assigned to the reparations commission which would farm them out to private syndicates, including German interests.

NO PROFOUND BREAK

WASHINGTON, June 6.—No hope for a pronounced break in the sweltering temperatures covering the eastern part of the country was held out to day's weather bureau forecast for the next 24 hours. The only optimistic prediction was one for a slight lowering of the thermometer tonight in parts of New England and in the Middle Atlantic states and the lower lake region.

Three Entombed Miners Rescued

RICKNELL, Ind., June 6.—Released late last night from a mine shaft near here, where they were entombed since last Saturday by a cave-in, Joe Bernardi, Frank Maybeto and James Bertillo, coal miners, were resting in their homes today, little the worse for their experience. The men, who were imprisoned in the mine for more than 70 hours, were in good physical condition, when taken out. Fresh air was forced into the mine and food lowered to them through a two-inch casing, drilled into the mine.

The business meeting of the association will be held at the main entrance to the school and at 5 o'clock the annual banquet will be served in the school hall. The final event of the program, the quarter-century frolic, held by the alumni of 1923, will start at 7:30 and will continue until late in the evening.

R. E. A. Service Writer
By HENRY CLAY
JUNEAU, Alaska, June 6—An air of expectancy pervades Alaska's dogdom.
Canines are on the qui vive. Pups are wagging their tails nervously. Sober and sagacious malamutes and huskies are going about their business as quietly as possible, but their calmness comes with noticeable effort. For something big is in the wind. Alaskan howlers have invited Laddie Boy, official companion of President Harding, to accompany the chief executive of the United States on his tour of this far North American territory. Laddie Boy! Dog aristocrat of the nation! If he'll just come north, too! Malamute Bob, supreme ruler of Alaska's dogs, carried the invitation to Governor Scott C. Bone for transmission to Laddie Boy.

The bid, drafted at a recent convention attended by canine delegates from every nook and trail of the north, warns Laddie Boy not to let anyone chase him out of the auto when the president starts.
"And don't allow the president to talk you out of it," Malamute Bob counsels.
The message assures his excellency that the choicest cuts of reindeer, whale blubber, seal, sea lion and walrus fat will be served in regular Alaskan style.
And there'll be a big bout between "Jack Dempsey" and "Luis Firpo," a hard-fighting dog just up from South America.
"Trust me, exalted ruler, that you can get away with it," concludes the invitation. "We are your humble servants. The Dogs of Alaska."
"Well, that's that," observed Malamute Bob, as Governor Bone stamped the message for immediate sending.

"Thanks, governor, and I'm willing to bet my sharpest tusks that Laddie Boy, if he does come, will vote unanimously for your Greater Alaska program before he starts back home."
"And Snarling Wolf thinks so, too."

EXAMINATIONS AT THE NORMAL SCHOOL

The entrance examinations for the Lowell Normal school will be held tomorrow and Friday. The programs for both days are as follows: Thursday: 8.15 to 8.30, registration; 8.30 to 10.30, English; 10.30 to 12.30, Latin; commercial subjects, 1.30 to 4.30, social studies. Friday: 8.15 to 8.30, registration; 8.30 to 10.30, mathematics; 10.30 to 12.30, German, French, Spanish; 1.30 to 4, science; 3.30 to 5, fine and practical arts.

Clarence M. Weed, principal, has addressed the following letter to all applicants for admission to the school, outlining the method by which they will be accepted:

"In the State Normal schools of Massachusetts, which heretofore have had a greater number of applicants than could be admitted, it has been the custom for many years to make up the list for the class to be admitted in September on July 1st of each year. This practice is outlined in the second paragraph of the blue blank entitled 'Application for Admission to a State Normal School' in these words:

CLARENCE M. WEED

"When the number of applicants for any school or department is in excess of the number that can be admitted, candidates will be considered in the order in which their applications are received at the Normal school; provided, the high school principal submits the school record and the candidate obtains credit for 15 units by certification or examination by July 1. The system to be used has also been indicated in a recent communication from the state department of education, which recommends that on July 1st the list for the class to be admitted in September, 1923, be made up of those who have completed all the requirements for admission, either by certification or examination, in the order of the receipt of their applications. In case the quota of the school is not then filled, the remaining number may be admitted as the result of the September examinations in the order of their applications."

This letter is being sent to all the applicants for admission to the State Normal school in order that they may know exactly the situation and be prepared to complete their examinations on June 7th and 8th of this year as well as to be sure that the necessary blanks have been filled out and forwarded by the secondary school which they are attending.

Mr. Weed has also addressed a letter to the superintendents of schools in Massachusetts inviting them to come to the local Normal school to get teachers from this year's graduating class to fill vacancies in their schools. Mr. Weed's letter has already resulted in the visiting here of several principals and more are expected during the coming week. Mr. Weed's letter is as follows:

"In response to a general demand from the superintendents of the state and in accordance with the policy of the state department, we have been encouraging superintendents from other states from engaging the prospective graduates from the Lowell Normal school.

The time for graduation has almost arrived and the members of the graduating class are beginning to get anxious concerning the possibilities for employment next September. We have been holding up applications from outside the state in order that the positions within the state may have first choice, but it does not seem fair to the young women, who are to be graduated, to continue this policy indefinitely.

"Consequently, I am venturing to suggest that if there are vacancies in the Massachusetts schools and superintendents are intending to apply to the Lowell Normal school for teachers for these positions, that they do so immediately.

"In the class which is to be graduated June 21st, there are several girls who have had a year's successful experience in the field and who give every promise of making excellent teachers.

"We shall be glad to welcome superintendents to the school on any week-day, except Saturday, between 9 o'clock and 3 o'clock, and to give them an opportunity to see any candidate they may wish to interview at work in the classrooms."

EARLY MORNING FIRE IN SHOE STORE

The shoe store owned by Daniel Smith, at the corner of Middlesex and Revere streets, was considerably damaged by a fire which started in a box which started in the basement early this morning. The origin of the blaze is unknown. Very little loss will result from the fire, but water ruined a large amount of the shoes in stock. The alarm was rung in from box 319.

MIDNIGHT BLAZE

Box 25 was wounded this morning at 12.08 for a fire which started in a pile of old lumber, in the rear of the old Lane house, at the corner of Church and Central streets. The slight blaze was put out with hand extinguishers.

How Contagions Spread

—Children are the victims

CHILDHOOD knows no snobbery. In the world of school and play, all children are equal. Youngsters from homes less clean than yours come in intimate contact with your children.

Mothers are often shocked at the ugly skin diseases their children contract. Your children are lucky if they escape with nothing worse.

For great medical authorities constantly warn against the filth that soils the skin of children. It is not "clean dirt"—it is highly dangerous. In it are countless disease germs.

You cannot prevent exposure to it, but you can do much to prevent its effects. You must make sure that the youngsters are completely cleaned, perfectly purified, whenever they come in from the street.

Combats the Danger

Your great ally is the health soap—Lifebuoy. This remarkable soap contains an ADDED ingredient. It is the famous health element that penetrates each dirt-laden pore. Rich, creamy lather carries it into every cranny of the skin. The effects are unique. Circulation is stimulated. Blemishes yield. The skin is deodorized. Dangerous dirt is removed. Your husband and children need this sure protection. And you'll find they prefer this fine soap. Men especially prize it. That's why so many men have clear, radiant skin.

Give it to them freely. Be sure a cake is at every place where there is running water.

You can always recognize the true health soap by COLOR and ODOR. Natural, rich palm-fruit oil is red. So Lifebuoy is RED. The unique health element gives Lifebuoy its pungent, healthful odor. Rely on Lifebuoy.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The great Leon and his company of illusionists have captured the town with positively the most mystifying act ever shown here. Put forward a comedy sketch, it yet remains unsolvable. Probably few professionals of the country could tell how several of the big tricks are accomplished. Leon is the originator of all that takes place on the stage. The startling acts are chalked up to him exclusively. The remainder of the bill has good pay to it. It included Rockwell & Fox, a couple of noble nuts; Frances Arms, one of the most charming singers on the stage; Barrett & Cunneen in a

"DOWN TO THE SEA IN SHIPS"

They tell a good yarn about Jimmie Turf, who plays the cabin boy in Elmer Clifton's newest production, "Down to the Sea in Ships," which comes to the B. F. Keith theatre all next week. One day, Captain James A. Tilton, the veteran whaler, who was skipper of the fastest whaling vessel used in the picture, couldn't find his shoes. He always slept with all his clothes on, only taking off his shoes. He began yelling in frustration for the cabin boy, finally locating him far up on the bow of the ship. "Come here, boy," "Come here I say," yelled Captain Tilton. "Dogsone him, he'd get off this ship if he could, but he can't."

Turf, who along with the other actors in the production had been forced to sign as an ordinary seaman, was forever getting into mischief with the Captain. One day when the skipper was shaving, an unexpected roll of the vessel caused Jimmie to drop a pile of plates. Down they went with a bang. The captain rushed up, his face lathered and half shaved. Instantly his superstition of the sea made itself manifest. "Four dishes broke," he said. "Six times eight is forty-eight; we'll be out two weeks, and there won't be a dish left."

CROWN THEATRE

John Gilbert, the versatile Fox star, will be seen at the Crown theatre today, in "The Love Gambler," his latest production. For some time, Gilbert has given promise of being one of the big luminaries in the screen world, a promise that was definitely fulfilled when he appeared in the title role of "Monte Cristo," easily one of the screen achievements of the year.

This picture is said to make a new mark for Gilbert, though his role and the locale of the picture are different from anything he has done before. It may be that he will prove to be one of the screen's greatest light comedians as well as one of those best equipped for serious roles.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Wicked old New York, its many dives, its white lights, its cafes and cabarets, is shown as a voracious dragon slaying all adventures in the Warner Brothers' screen version of F. Scott Fitzgerald's novel, "The Beautiful and Damned," featuring Marie Prevost, which will be shown at the Merrimack square theatre three days, beginning tomorrow.

Especially the New York between Port-au-Prince and Seventy-second streets on one side, and Fifth Avenue and Broadway on the other, where all the theatre and cabarets are centered, and where is found the most money revelation of humanity ever thrown and Ebbled into one spot.

Gloria Gilbert, the beautiful dapper, and Anthony Eden, the able young man waiting for his grandfather to die and leave him millions, are shown swept into the vortex of these cruel streets through with sharper, criminal adventures and demoralizations, where hunger and death fight each other, where clerk and millionaire rub elbows, where beggars gaze enviously at the gorgeous splendor of diamond-encrusted attire.

The picture, an adaptation from F. Scott Fitzgerald's novel of the same name, is the story of Gloria and Anthony and their adventures in the madhouse of madness that is New York at night. They live frantically but the day of reckoning comes when they are discovered by their grandfather during a wild party at their home and disinherited. As high as they have flown in pleasure, as deep as they are plunged into poverty and despair, comes the strong climax of the picture.

For her supporting cast in this production, directed by William S. Hart, Miss Prevost has Kenneth Harlan, Tully Marshall, Harry Myers, Parker M. Conrad, Clarence Burton, Walter Lane, George Kuwa, Charles McElhanna.

PRES. HARDING TO MAKE
19 SPEECHES ON TRIP

WASHINGTON, June 6.—President Harding will make 19 addresses en route to the Pacific coast on his Alaska trip, and will speak in five coast cities after returning from Alaska, according to an official announcement of the executive's itinerary, made public yesterday at the White House.

The addresses en route to the coast will be made in the cities and on the dates following:

St. Louis, June 21, evening; Kansas City, June 22, evening; Hinchelwood, Kan., June 23, afternoon; Denver, June 25, morning; Cheyenne, Wyo., June 25, afternoon; Salt Lake City, June 26, evening; Pocatello, Idaho, June 28, morning; Idaho Falls, June 28, afternoon; Idaho Falls, Idaho, June 28, afternoon; Butte, Mont., June 29, morning; Helena, Mont., June 29, evening; Spokane, Wash., July 1, evening; Meacham, Ore., July 3; Portland, Ore., July 4, afternoon, and Tacoma, July 5, morning.

Returning from Alaska the president will speak at Vancouver, British Columbia, July 26, evening; Seattle, July 31, evening; San Francisco, July 31, evening; Los Angeles, August 1, evening, and San Diego, Aug. 4, afternoon.

Announcement also was made that on the trip to the coast the president will make brief visits to Zion and Yellowstone national parks and on the trip down the Pacific coast will stop at Yosemite National park. The address at Meacham, Ore., will be in connection with the trial anniversary celebration.

Final details of the itinerary with respect to addresses were worked out yesterday by the president in conference with Walter F. Brown, chairman of the commission on reorganization of government departments and an advisor of the executive. Mr. Brown left Washington last night to confer with local committees on details of the president's visit to each of the 10 cities.

The itinerary in Alaska has been only tentatively worked out and will largely be dependent upon the president's desires on reaching the territory and also upon transportation facilities. The executive plans to spend about two weeks in Alaska.

Details of the return by way of the Panama canal and Porto Rico likewise remain in a tentative state, although it has been announced that the president would sail from San Diego on the shipping board steamer President Harrison. Only a day or two will be spent in the canal zone.

MAIL ORDER HOUSES

MUST HAVE LICENSES

CONCORD, N. H., June 6.—In response to a query from the secretary of state, Atty. Gen. Hinkley has ruled that mail order houses come within the scope of a law passed by the legislature of 1923 regulating the sale of firearms. This means that every such house must have a license issued by the state of New Hampshire before it can sell a pistol or revolver to a resident of this state and that such resident must have a license for the purchase before making it.

NO PHYSICIAN

CONCORD, N. H., June 6.—The bulletin of the state board of health issued yesterday gives the results of a survey of New Hampshire showing 90 towns out of 235 to have no resident doctor. It was this condition which caused the recent legislation to authorize the subsidizing of physicians from town treasuries, a law which has been taken advantage of by two towns, Epsom and Deerfield.

The total population of the doctorless towns is 41,155, four of the towns having between 1000 and 2000 residents each. In the case of 46 of these towns less than five miles travel is necessary to reach a doctor, and in only four cases is a resident doctor more than 10 miles away.

JUDGE WAS LATE BUT IT
WASN'T HIS FAULT

PLYMOUTH, June 6.—Judge Stanley E. Qua missed the 9.05 a. m. train from Boston Monday and the opening of the June sitting of the superior court here did not take place in the morning as expected, but at 2.15 in the afternoon when His Honor finally arrived on a later train.

It is very seldom that a judge is missing at the hour for court to open and especially Judge Qua, who is noted for his punctuality. He was not to blame, however, for Monday's occurrence as he started early enough from his home in Lowell, but at the North station he hired a taxicab, as he afterwards explained, to rush him across the city to the South station. The taxi got into a jam on Washington street, causing an annoying delay, and then ran into another in Dewey square, so that he got to the South station just in time to see his train moving out.

Sheriff Blake was called up and told what had happened. The hundreds of waiting lawyers, their clients and witnesses in divorce cases on the list to be tried were informed.

Judge Qua made up for lost time, however, when he got by and court was ceremoniously opened, not only disposing of scores of motions in equity cases, but hearing a dozen uncontested divorce cases, sitting until after 6 p. m. to clean up practically the whole list.

Details of the return by way of the Panama canal and Porto Rico likewise remain in a tentative state, although it has been announced that the president would sail from San Diego on the shipping board steamer President Harrison. Only a day or two will be spent in the canal zone.

BOY DROWNED IN THE
WESTERN CANAL

Romeo Goulet, aged 14 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Goulet of 682 Middlesex street, drowned last evening in the Western canal in the rear of the Davis & Sargent Lumber Co. in Middlesex street. The boy with a couple of companions, was playing on a raft when suddenly he fell overboard. His companions extended the oars to him, but the boy was unable to grasp them, and shortly afterward disappeared below the surface.

The people were notified of the drowning and the canal was dragged till midnight but without success and the search for the body was resumed this morning. Deceased is survived by his parents and three sisters, Aldora, Aiva and Irene Goulet, all of this city.

The fact that in dropping the ball it first came into contact with the person of the player and was then deflected into the candle bag involves no consideration. The player should simply remove the ball from the bag and repeat the operation of again dropping it over the shoulder as is now possible to do.

the place of Hutchison and the addition of Hoffman and Deger, the American team should be in for more dangerous business this year.

As in Sarazen's case, this will be Farrell's first year on the British links. With Barnes it is an old story, having been on the tour since 1927. He returns for the open cup. He finished sixth on two occasions and last year fell within a shot of the winning score.

Hutchison, Deger and Hutchison faced with Barnes and the three practically made a clean sweep of everything in the way of money during the tour. The first time in history a home-bred golfer succeeded in cupping

In the British open of 1922, Walter Hagen finished first with 300 and Duncan

MINOR LEAGUE NO LONGER APPEALS TO UMP

"Ducky" Holmes, one of the latest additions to the American league staff of umpires, is not without a sense of humor.

Holmes, who for years played minor league ball, and who had a trial in the big show, has been umpiring for about six years. During that time he has worked in various minor leagues.

Prior to taking up umpiring, Holmes took a fling at the managerial game in the bushes. He was manager and part owner of the New York Yankees for a few days of the old Michigan State league. That was just before the United States got into the World War. Just when it seemed as if he were in a position to make some money Circle Sam took a bath in the game and baseball went into the discard for the time being. Holmes, by selling several players to the big show, managed to break even on the season and was willing to dispose of his holdings for just what they cost him.

Recently the Chicago White Sox played an exhibition game in Saginaw. The winner of the game figured that Holmes, the former Saginaw manager, would be an additional card as the umpire. A wire was sent, offering him a hundred and expenses to officiate.

TO REJECT NEW GERMAN OFFER

Refusal to Entertain Proposal Foreshadowed in Paris Official Quarters

PARIS, June 6.—(By the Associated Press)—The rejection of Germany's new reparations offer was foreshadowed in official quarters here today.

While awaiting the text of the note, French officials drew attention to the circumstance that the note apparently fails to mention the cessation of passive resistance in the Ruhr, which is considered practically a sine qua non to the beginning of negotiations.

Even if it should develop that the note makes some suggestion regarding passive resistance that could be discussed with the Germans there is no assurance that French officials will accept such suggestions in the note would form a basis for peace parleys. For instance the French do not conceal their disapproval of the reported proposal for a moratorium until 1928 and elastic annuities thereon without the naming of a definite total sum.

THE PARK COMMISSION

Cawley Claim Discussed at Last Night's Meeting—
Other Business

"It looks like a badly bungled job," said City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds last night at the meeting of the park commission when he was asked for his opinion concerning the William F. Cawley claim for $600 for the buildings formerly known as the Wiggin wood yard on the addition to Varnum park on First street.

The Cawley claim was the first taken up by the board, of which three were present, Clarence M. Weed, chairman; Harvey B. Greene, and Alexander E. Rountree. William O. Regan, former city solicitor, presented Mr. Cawley's side of the case and the present city solicitor and Miss Rivet, of the solicitor's office, told their side of the question. Mr. Regan claimed that William F. Cawley, after several attempts to buy the Wiggin property, finally got the property after the owner's death and secured a lease from the owner of the land, a Mr. Miller. Then the city stepped in and tried to get the property for park and street widening purposes. Mr. Miller, according to Mr. Regan, promised Mr. Cawley that he would sign no deed until the latter was promised at least eight months on the property. Then the city seized the land, and treated the buildings as if they were their own and has moved the office building around. The whole Cawley case rests upon a letter which is in the hands of the present solicitor and which was shown last night. According to Mr. Regan, the head of the last year's government made arrangements whereby Mr. Cawley would receive $600 for the property and this letter is Mr. Cawley's acceptance of the offer.

Miss Rivet then told of her knowledge of the matter, which coincided greatly with Mr. Regan's case, and the city solicitor stated that it seemed as though Mr. Cawley should be paid the money. Mr. Weed also stated that he thought there was a moral obligation to pay the bill but asked as to where the money was to come from. This matter was finally referred to the city solicitor for the preparation of a vote to be taken at next Monday's meeting.

Several petitions for the removal of cases were read and referred to the tree committee.

A delegation from the Pawtucketville Improvement association, consisting of Rev. Arthur G. Lyon, Cornelius Cronin, and William H. Rigby, came to the meeting to discuss the plans for the memorial which they intend to erect near Pawtucket square. Mr. Rigby also requested that Mr. Cronin, the Boston Art commission, the park commission, and the committee met to look over the plans for the memorial and its site, and since that time nothing has been done, so the purpose of their visit to the park board was to ask that permission be granted to start work on the memorial. Mr. Rigby also released several of the discussions that have been held concerning this memorial and asked for definite action. According to Mr. Weed, the park commission can not fairly grant their petition until they comply with the request of the Boston Art commission, which was jointly invited to investigate this matter, and send them a plan of the memorial on the site for their approval.

Mr. Cronin asked that, if the art commission approved the plans, would the board grant the permit, and Mr. Weed refused to bind himself to any promises, but said that when the approval of the art commission be received, then the board will act as it sees fit, but Mr. Weed also told Mr. Cronin that he did not intend to have the onus of the two-year delay laid at the door of the park commission for he felt that it was up to the committee more than to the park board for not forwarding the plans to the art commission for approval. Mr. Cronin then said that what he would like to do would be to have the Pawtucketville Improvement association buy some land and put up their monument and then let the park commission keep these water front park.

The final decision of the matter was to send plans to the art commission as requested and when their approval is received, bring the matter back to the park commission for a permit.

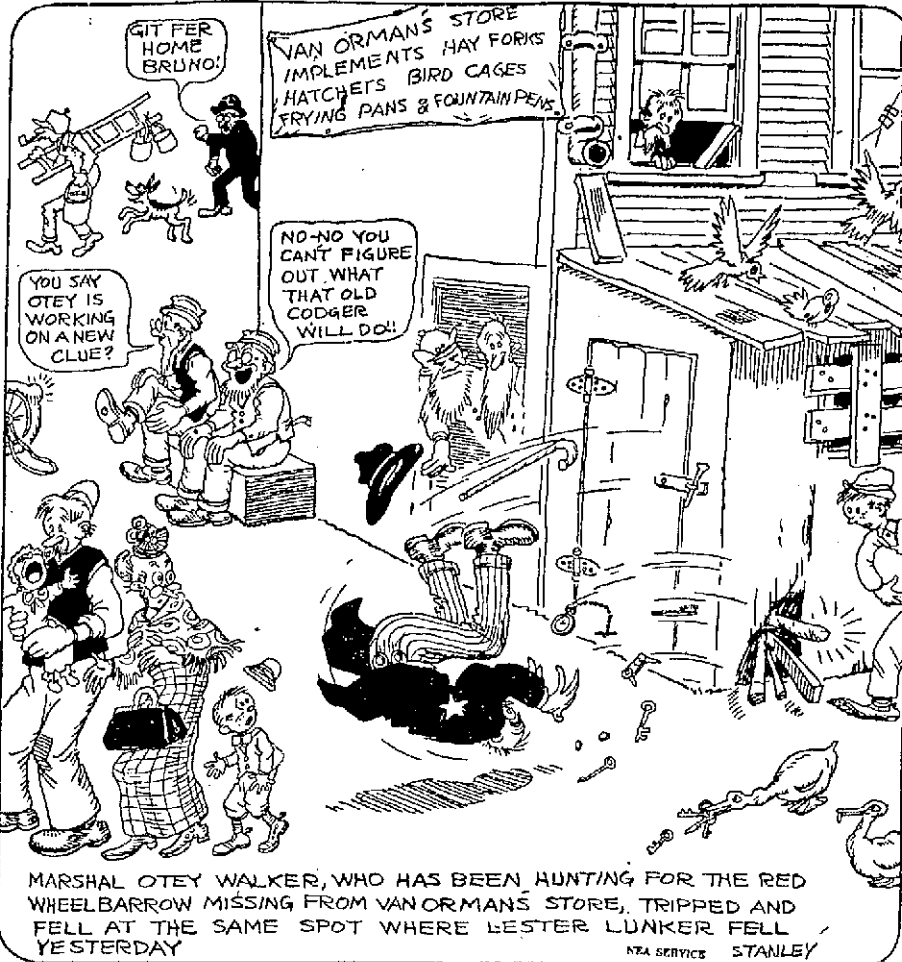

A letter was read from William L. Doherty, of Doherty Bros., whose property adjoins the Washington park ball field, protesting against baseball games in their roof and windows caused by baseballs. Supt. Kernan stated that he had screened their windows and the matter was closed.

It was voted to instruct the Civil Service board to submit a list of playground teachers to the park commission.

The next matter taken up was the question of granting a permit to the Sells-Floto circus for July 13.

Supt. Kernan was instructed to forward to Robert S. Watson and James B. O'Connor notices of seizure by the city of land bounded by Richmond avenue, Hudson street, and Chase street for playground purposes. Councilors Chadwick and McFarland appeared before the board to discuss certain playgrounds in their sections of the city, and the latter to arrange for a meeting of a committee from the Fair grounds' section with the park commission. This meeting was set for next Monday.

The meeting adjourned at 10:30 until next Monday evening.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Thomas Addison Collins, son of Supt. Michael F. Collins of the Lawrence water department and Miss E. Madeleine Fitzgerald, daughter of Mrs. William Fitzgerald of 99 Franklin street, Lawrence, were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at St. Mary's Shrine by Rev. James T. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Mary's church. The bride was prettily gowned in Salome blue tulle with a white Chantilly lace and silver embroidered sash, and carried a bouquet of white and blue flowers. The groom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a white bow tie. The ceremony was held in the church, and the couple were then taken to a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Two bottles were seized by the officers for the purpose of a high temperature, which showed the contents to be of the 3.75 per cent. alcohol. Herat said that the two men who came while the officers were present were strangers to him and were in a drunken condition. He admitted paying a fine of $100 for illegal keeping on Sept. 25, 1922, but since that time, he said, he has made nothing but home brew and that for his own personal use. When the $50 fine was imposed, Berard entered an appeal but later withdrew and paid the fine.

THE MANN SCHOOL FIRE

Cost of Repairing Fire Damage Greater Than
Was Anticipated

The cost of repairing the fire damage at the Mann school will be considerably greater than was anticipated based upon an estimate issued by the state inspector of buildings and Chief Edward F. Saunders of the fire department, who have stipulated that the floors and walls of the automobile repair department of the Vocational school must be wire-lathed and hard-plastered in order to make them fire-retarding.

Originally the plans for repairing the school called for wooden lathes and the substitution of wire-lathing will mean greater cost.

City Building Inspector Francis A. Connor, whose men are doing the repair work, will enter his specifications to conform with the orders now issued by the state inspector and fire chief, who have made a thorough inspection of the building.

FINED FOR MAINTAINING LIQUOR NUISANCE

John Berard of 12 1-2 Middlesex street was arraigned in the district court this morning and was found guilty of maintaining a liquor nuisance. He was ordered to pay a fine of $50. Berard was taken into custody on May 13 by Officers Clyde Aldrich and Alfred Kilroy of the liquor squad who told of going to the premises on the night in question and finding 104 quart bottles of home brew and 109 empty. While they were questioning the defendant, they said, two men known men knocked at the door and Officer Aldrich admitted them. He asked them what they wanted and was told that they desired beer and that they had purchased it in the same place on previous occasions for 25 cents a bottle. Connor, in a room with the proprietor, one of the men is alleged to have returned with the statement, "It's all right now. I've been put through the third degree. Let me have a drink."

Two bottles were seized by the officers for the purpose of a high temperature, which showed the contents to be of the 3.75 per cent. alcohol. Herat said that the two men who came while the officers were present were strangers to him and were in a drunken condition. ## SLEEP ON ROOFS AND SIDEWALKS

Tenements Take to Roofs
and Streets to Escape Heat

BOSTON, June 6.—Dwellers in the crowded North End tenements took to the roofs and streets last night to escape the heat. On some of the narrow streets, every inch of the sidewalks was covered with bedding. The residents had been cooled a little by flushing with fire hose during the evening, in which process the youngsters enjoyed shower baths. From the equally congested West End, a large proportion of the residents flocked to the common and the Charles river embankment to spend the night on the grass.

Many Protested—The lowest temperature during the night was 72 and with the dawn the mercury began to climb again, although a southwest breeze tempered the heat and clouds gave promise of showers. Yesterday's maximum temperature of 85 never before has been equalled on June 5, but the weather bureau records show a number of days in other years which were hotter. It was the highest temperature recorded in this city since July 23, 1921. A number of persons were prostrated but no deaths due to the heat were reported.

Showers Predicted—ALBANY, N. Y., June 6.—Weather bureau predictions of local thunder showers and lower temperatures brought some today to this city, which sweltered in the heat wave of yesterday. The maximum official temperature yesterday, 96 degrees, was two degrees higher than the record for the same date in 1899. High humidity added to the discomfort and there was scarcely any breeze.

Downpour Brings Relief—DETROIT, June 6.—A downpour of rain last night followed by showers throughout the night and early today, broke the back of the heat wave in Detroit.

Man Seriously Injured—CHICAGO, June 6.—A patrolman was seriously injured by a high tension wire which and fallen to the pavement and which he was trying to remove from the street. Charles Brady, home proprietor man with a clemis, was struck by the wire and partially paralyzed. Police are at work to blow down in many parts of the city.

Water Shortage Threatened—CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 6.—As the dry spell continued today the suburbs of Cleveland found themselves facing a water shortage.

In East Cleveland the water pressure was declared to be the lowest in history. In Youngstown and Findlay, Ohio, the water pressure was also low.

Rain To Bring Relief—COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 6.—Rain, forecast for today, was expected to prevent immediate return of sweltering weather which, until last night, has held Ohio in its grip for several days.

One Death Caused By Heat—ST. PAUL, Minn., June 6.—Cool weather prevailed here today after several days of sweltering heat during which one man died and scores were overcome. The highest temperature, 91, was recorded last Sunday. The temperature early today was 60. The maximum yesterday was 84.

Hot Spell Broken—ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 6.—Showers shortly after daybreak today broke the hot spell that has gripped Rochester and western New York for the past two days, sending the mercury near a record mark for the month. One man, believed distracted by the heat, ended his life last night.

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE IN WASHINGTON

Definite plans for the trip of Lowell city officials to the waterways conference in Washington on June 13 for the discussion of the proposal to deepen the channel of the Merrimack river from Lowell to the sea for the purpose of navigation, developed rapidly today at a conference between Mayor John J. Donohue and James A. Gallagher, president of the council.

The mayor has allowed total traveling expenses of $735, or $123 each for six men. The mayor definitely told President Gallagher he will not make the trip and designated the president as his official representative, others who will go from the city to favor the proposition are Councilors Frank R. Seamus, John J. McEldowney and Arthur Genest and Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds.

It has not been fully decided whether the trip will be made by motor, all-rail, or boat and rail, but the route will be picked tomorrow. If the party should travel by motor car, a chauffeur will be taken along and if it is an all-rail trip City Messenger Owen Monahan may be the sixth representative of the city. These details will be settled before tomorrow night, it is believed.
